

Hitler Attempts New Blitz Over Russian Sectors

Fuehrer Sends Most of His Planes Into Action in East to Smash Reds

R.A.F. Is Halted

Weather Halts Series of Raids by Anglo Attackers

(By The Associated Press)
Smolensk, which has served the German high command as field headquarters for the eastern front, was reported within range of Russia's big guns today, and the central front army of General Gregory Zhukov, savior of Moscow, was said to have advanced to within 18 miles of the city from the north-east.

There was thus a possibility that the Red Army's initiative on the central front had carried the war within the vision of Adolf Hitler himself as an odd sort of birthday present for Berlin said the fuhrer passed the day, his 53rd anniversary, at eastern headquarters "in immediate charge of operations."

It was not known, of course, whether Smolensk still served the Hitler command as the nerve center for the battle of Russia. The city is 230 miles west of Moscow.

The advances on the Smolensk operations came in Moscow press dispatches via London and it was Reuters which placed the advancing Russians so close to Smolensk.

Concurrently, Russian sources also reported new attacks along the Volkhov river south of Leningrad and against the Finns, between Lakes Ladoga and Onega.

Adolf Hitler, observing his 53d birthday at eastern front headquarters, was reported by the Russians today to be trying to put the old blitz back into the air war with attacks by as many as 50 planes against single secret objectives.

The signs were that he had marshaled the bulk of his air force on that front, at the expense of his air strength in western Europe. Poor visibility over the continent last night, however, caused a pause in the British offensive in the west.

Small R. A. F. fighter forces swept over northern France yesterday without opposition and the best the Germans could muster today against Britain was a three-plane strafing and bombing of a town and a south coast town. Three persons were killed and several injured.

German bombers ranged the vast Russian front, smashing at railway stations, airdromes and front line positions. They were impelled to this activity by improving weather, the hope of starting a general offensive sometime and perhaps also by the widening breach which the Russians were exploiting against the Finns above Leningrad.

On the southern front the Germans were making a show of action by tank-plane teams, the Russians said, but failed to restore positions pierced by the Red army.

The German high command said its bombers had hit again at harbor installations and utilities on the Caucasian coast of the Black Sea, with one big Russian tanker damaged. German fighters were credited with destruction of 22

(Continued on Page Seven)

Buying Is Urged

Morgenthau Says 10 Per Cent Wage Payment Goal in War Bond Drive

Washington, April 20 (AP)—Every American who receives income will be urged to invest at least 10 per cent of it in war bonds or stamps.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announcing that quotas would be set for each of the nation's 3,070 counties beginning May 1, said "ten per cent of every company payroll is the minimum war bond goal."

Bond sales, which soared to $1,000,000,000 in January, have dropped off recently to about $500,000,000 a month.

The treasury said the quotas would be "revised and stepped-up" in the months after May, and that it was the plan to reach every person in the United States who received income of any sort though it recognized that "some people, because of family circumstances, cannot afford to save 1 per cent of their income, while other persons can afford an even higher percentage."

Fabbie Is Praised By Army Officers At Florida Post

Local Man Brings Private Back to Normal After Man Is Felled by Electric Current

PETER FABBIE
Private First Class Peter Fabbie of 239 Catherine street, this city, has been recommended for citation for his presence of mind, which is credited with saving the life of a fellow soldier.

Pfc. Fabbie, a driver in the Eglin Field, Fla., Post Transportation Department, was working with a detail of men who were stringing telephone wires across a road in the vicinity of Fort Walton, near there. As the men were drawing the line across the highway a sudden jerk on the slack wire whipped it up into a high tension wire, causing the current to leap the small gap to the telephone wire.

Private David J. Rees, who was holding the wire, was knocked unconscious, and his breathing stopped instantly. It was then that Pfc. Fabbie quickly administered first aid in the form of artificial respiration until normal breathing was restored to the victim.

Pfc. Fabbie is being recommended for the citation by his commanding officer, Lieut. Robert L. Smith; the post transportation officer, Major John W. Mead; and the post signal officer, Captain J. F. Callahan.

Hoteling, Hoetger Terms Suspended

Swanson Appears in Court and Is Told to Make Regular Payments

Nelson J. Hoteling and Raymond Hoetger of Kingston were sentenced to a year in the county jail and execution of sentence was suspended during good behavior when they appeared in county court this morning before County Judge J. Edward Conway. Both pleaded guilty to violation of Section 43 of the Penal Law, an omnibus section. Hoteling had previously been charged with possession of a pistol without a permit.

The two were involved in an incident some time ago when police charged they were found annoying a young woman on the street and when the police arrived they found a pistol on the person of one of the young men. Judge Conway in imposing sentence told Hoetger that his previous record showed petit violations and he hoped the sentence imposed would give him the needed opportunity to make good. Hoetger's previous record was good, he said, and he therefore suspended execution of both sentences and directed the young men to report to Chief Probation Officer Lawrence Jensen.

A. Paul Swanson, who has been on parole since last September under an abandonment charge, was brought in court and told to make some regular arrangement for the support of his three children or the indictment would be moved. District Attorney Haver said that Swanson was behind in his payments and that even though he was gainfully employed he had failed to pay as agreed. Unless the payments were made regularly Mr. Haver said he would move the case for trial and he suggested that Swanson make payments regular through his employer to Probation Officer Jensen. Judge Conway told Swanson that unless he made payment as directed the case would be moved for trial since the family of Swanson could not exist on promises. He directed Swanson to report to Probation Officer Jensen and meet the requirements.

Jurors were excused until Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

Japs Give New Angle On Attacks

Tokyo Says Three U. S. Plane Carriers Took Part in Saturday's Raids

Planes Fly to China

Japanese Report Says Raiders Flew Over to Chinese Bases

(By The Associated Press)
Japan broadcast a new version today of bombing raids Saturday on Tokyo and three other great cities, implying that the assault was launched from three United States aircraft carriers in the Pacific and that some of the planes raced on to safety in China after loosing their bombs.

Tokyo imperial headquarters issued this announcement:

"A hostile navy unit centering around three aircraft carriers appeared April 18 at a distant point off the eastern coast of Japan proper but, fearing Japanese counterattack, fled without approaching Japanese shores.

"On the same day approximately ten enemy aircraft of the North American B-25 type appeared over Tokyo and other areas, flying singly or in pairs.

"Hostile planes which managed to escape being downed appear to have escaped to China.

"Damage caused was extremely light."

The world still was dependent on Japanese accounts or other Axis versions originating in Japan for news of what occurred Saturday, when the Japanese declared that planes bearing the insignia of the United States air force bombed Tokyo, the capital; Yokohama and Kobe, the two chief ports, and Nagoya, Japan's third city and center of aircraft production.

No Allied Reports
There was no word of such a raid from Washington or any other United Nations capital and if the raids were launched from a task force such as the Tokyo announcement describes, it may be 10 days or longer before the American version is published. Washington's policy is to permit all units to return to their bases before publishing reports.

As if to support the Tokyo thesis of a carrier-based attack with the raiders continuing on to China, a Reuters dispatch from Chungking said the United States planes which struck home at Japan had arrived safely at their destinations. Quoting "well-informed quarters" in the Chinese provisional capital, the dispatch gave no details as to this destination. Chungking had reported earlier that the attack was not launched from Chinese soil.

The North American Aviation Incorporated B-25 is a twin-engine, medium bomber with a top speed of more than 300 miles an hour and a cruising range of 2,650 miles.

However, either the Japanese identification of the raiding planes or the implication that they were carrier-launched seemed in error.

The B-25, an army plane, has been too heavy for carrier use. Navy carrier-borne bombers are single engine planes which are lighter and can take off from a shorter runway than the B-25 would require.

Either the B-25 or new longer range navy single engine bombers would have sufficient range, however, to strike from several hundred miles east of Japan and still be able to speed on 1,400 miles southwest of Tokyo to the Lishui key of the southeast Chekiang province. The Japanese, in announcing recent air raids on that part of Chekiang, said their targets were air fields they believed were being prepared for use against Japan by American-made planes.

In London, the possibility that the American bombers raided Japan from advanced bases in the Aleutian Islands and then flew on to China continued to be discussed widely. This would require a range of about 4,000 miles.

British experts said that if carriers were used and the planes continued on to China Japanese pursuit planes would be unable to trail them back to their carrier and the ship would have a better chance of escape.

The new announcement from imperial grants to rebuild factories and other structures in the Tokyo area; Domei, the Japanese news agency, reported a meeting of five ministers to discuss raid destruction and control of "baseless rumors"—suggesting that public reaction was not all the government desires—while Premier Gen. Hideko Tojo conferred with Emperor

(Continued on Page Seven)

ALLIES SMASH 40 JAPANESE PLANES IN RABAU RAIDS

Heart of Jap Empire—Target for Air Corps

This is the heart of Japan—the main business section of Tokyo—as it looks to an airplane pilot. In the lower foreground is a canal, and bridges. Just beyond it is a railroad line. Beyond this are many important buildings. Tokyo reported its first air raid April 18.

Roosevelt to Send Congress Message About Inflation

President's Views to Come in Week or 10 Days, House Leader Says at Capital

Washington, April 20 (AP)—Congressional leaders announced today President Roosevelt would send a message to congress in a week or ten days setting forth his views on necessary anti-inflation measures.

House Majority Leader McCormack said this message probably would be followed shortly by a fireside radio address on the same subject.

While he avoided use of the word "inflation", to which the President has expressed objection, said the message to congress would deal with "the cost of living during the war" and with "the factors that enter into it."

Wages would be included as one of these factors, he said, along with such other things, probably, as taxes, profits, and savings.

The program, it was understood, has not been drafted in its final form.

The message and the radio address which probably will come along shortly afterward are expected to, present the results of weeks of study by administration officials who are confronted with the grave problem of spiraling prices.

(Continued on Page Seven)

Fight Is Expected at Albany Over Republican Campaign Insistence

Albany, N. Y., April 20 (AP)—New York legislators commence their final week tonight girded for a political battle over Republican insistence on advancing the state's pre-election activities five weeks and a party-splitting furor over extension of daylight saving.

Chief party battles were expected to center in the session's remaining five days on the majority leadership's effort to pass bills which they claim are intended to assure voting privileges to New Yorkers in the nation's armed services.

Republicans contend that the measures, starting the state's pre-election machinery more than a month in advance, is necessary to permit receipt of ballots in time from soldiers and sailors.

The controversy over daylight saving developed over a bill introduced by Senator Frederic R. Couderd, Jr., New York city Republican, to permit localities to advance their clocks one hour between May 15 and September 15.

G. O. P. Committeemen Convenes in Chicago

Chairman Martin Names Resolutions Committee and Refers Viewpoints to Group; Scores Partisan Ideas

Chicago, April 20 (AP)—A seven-man resolutions committee, representing viewpoints of three Republican leaders on the party's stand on the war, was appointed today by Chairman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., as the G. O. P. National Committee moved toward a showdown on the issue.

The resolutions committeemen were: Walter S. Hallanan, Charleston, W. Va., who read a statement of policy submitted by Wendell Willkie, the party's presidential standard bearer in 1940, who proposed to repudiate "the doctrines of isolationism."

David S. Ingalls, Cleveland, O., representing Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who advocated "unqualified and aggressive support to the president in the prosecution of the war."

Vernor Schroeder, Chicago, who read a resolution by Senator C. Wayland Brooks of Illinois urging the party to pledge its "lives and resources to the efficient, complete and final winning of the war for America."

Wallace Townsend, Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. Gladys Knowles, Missoula, Mont.; Mrs. Pearl Sayre, Ardmore, Okla., and Robert Burroughs, Manchester, N. H.

The three resolutions were referred by Martin to the resolutions committee.

Members of the National committee gave Martin a vote of confidence at the outset of the meeting, which was arranged to map strategy for the party's fall campaign.

Criticism Is Expressed
The Taft and Brooks resolutions drew criticism from Sinclair Weeks, Massachusetts committeeman and party treasurer.

"This is a chance above all others for the Republican party to take a clear-cut positive position on the great issues which face this country," Weeks said in a statement. "I have seen the Brooks and Taft resolutions and do not consider them in any degree adequate from this standpoint. I am also informed that Senator Taft said he did not propose to go further in his declaration than to declare for a vigorous prosecution of the war."

"This attitude does not suffice to cover the proper presentation of the issues which confront us."

"Isolationism, of course, is dead, but here is a vital opportunity for the Republican party not only to declare that isolationism is dead today but that it is dead for all time x x x."

Brooks' resolution was not made public, but the only post-war reference in copies of the Taft resolution was for the restoration of all rights and freedoms surrendered to the administration during the conflict. Taft said, at a press conference, that "we are in no position yet to decide what kind of a peace there should be."

Willkie, who was not here for

(Continued on Page Nine)

Actions of French Insurgents Bode No Good for Laval

Attack Against Doriot Is Nasty Reminder Bullet Almost Ended Laval Career in 1941

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Wide World War Analyst)

Dark visaged Pierre Laval, reinstated chief of the Vichy government under Marshal Petain, threw his rebuilt pro-Nazi machine into gear today and started out on the tortuous and dangerous road of service to his German master.

There can be no doubt that this fresh Vichy crisis is a momentous development and one fraught with peril for the allies. However, it still has to be demonstrated that Herr Hitler won't in the long run have done himself a far-reaching disservice by forcing his camp-follower back into a position of power in an effort to obtain all French collaboration Berlin so long has sought.

The real answer, as previously remarked in this column, rests in the reaction of the defeated but increasingly insurgent French people, for Laval's value to Germany is likely to be small unless he can carry public opinion along with him. One wonders whether it was a bird of ill omen for Laval which came fluttering out of Rennes, France, today in the form of a Nazi report that an attempt had been made to assassinate Jacques Doriot, French advocate of collaboration with Berlin. That's a nasty reminder that a bullet all but ended Laval's own life last summer.

Hitler knows the position as well as the next fellow, and it therefore is interesting to see him try the experiment of imposing on the uneasy people a man whom they thoroughly dislike and distrust. It's doubly interesting in view of the fact that every move of the fuhrer indicates his fear that retribution may boil up among these tortured folk while he is in the midst of his great trial by fire on the Russian front.

Tractable and Crafty
Undoubtedly the Nazi leader has been impelled by the intractability of aged Chief of State Petain and Deputy Chief Admiral Darlan. Laval obviously has proved tractable thus far—and he is crafty. That's what Hitler wants—somebody who can bamboozle the French people.

One would expect to see the foxey ex-premier adopt the post of protector of his compatriots, perhaps backed by concessions from Hitler, and at the same time engineer schemes to deliver French aid to his country's conqueror. It might not be difficult, for instance, to arrange an incident which would put the British in such a position that Laval could charge them with attacking France. He then could appeal to the people to defend themselves.

However, the weakness of all

(Continued on Page Seven)

Chinese Rip Jap Pincers Movement

Gen. Douglas MacArthur Begins to Lay Out Plans for Big Allied Offensive

Parley Is Held

MacArthur and Curtin Meet With Leaders at Headquarters

By C. YATES McDANIEL

U. S. Army Headquarters, Australia, April 20 (AP)—Allied airmen, racing through tropical rainstorms in one of their attacks, were reported today to have destroyed 40 Japanese bombing and fighting planes on the ground in two raids on Rabaul.

While these continuing attacks indicated American and Australian determination to press the Japanese in their outer rim bases and perhaps force them to relax their grip, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's new high command in the southwest Pacific began a swift mapping of plans to carry out instructions to prepare an offensive.

As an initial step, Prime Minister John Curtin met with MacArthur and other allied service chiefs in a conference on a "highly confidential" subject.

The attacks on Rabaul in New Britain were made Saturday and Sunday. Thousands of pounds of high explosive were said to have been dropped on Lakunai airdrome Saturday, wrecking runways, blasting to pieces at least four navy zero fighters with direct hits and wrecking many others with flying steel.

Moored flying boats were set on fire by another wave of raiders, while in a heavy attack Sunday at least one Japanese ship in Rabaul harbor was reported damaged by bomb blasts.

The pilots at Lakunai swooped out of low clouds, fought their way through heavy anti-aircraft barrage and turned loose their bombs and machine-guns. The operation was described as highly successful.

Attending the conference between MacArthur and Curtin were Gen. Sir Thomas H. Blamey, Australian, commander of allied land forces, and Maj.-Gen. Richard Sutherland, American, who is expected to be MacArthur's chief of staff.

Curtin, who said his government had joined with the United States, Great Britain, New Zealand and the Netherlands in granting MacArthur a charter as supreme commander in this vital war theatre, attended the conference in his new role as defense minister.

Informed quarters said the defense portfolio had been created by the Australian war cabinet to eliminate red tape and provide a channel through which the Allied command could swiftly advise the government of its needs.

During the conference, they said, Curtin reaffirmed in more personal terms assurances of his government's good will and support which he formally conveyed to MacArthur from Canberra yesterday.

The prime minister himself hailed the agreement formalizing MacArthur's appointment as "a momentous occasion."

Reports from Japanese-occupied Rabaul, New Britain, said that Australian prisoners were being employed as dock workers but that their morale was high.

The Japanese were said to be

(Continued on Page Nine)

14th Alert Sounds

San Francisco Is Given Its Longest Alert Because of 'Target' Report

San Francisco, April 20 (AP)—California's central coast region was held in a state of alert for three hours and 15 minutes early Sunday by an unidentified target off the coast.

It was the 14th and longest alert of the war for the San Francisco region. There was no blackout.

Previous alerts and blackouts in the bay area have been attributed to unidentified planes, later proved friendly. Army officials when asked what they meant by an unidentified target, answered: "Use your own idea."

No explanation was given as to whether it was finally identified.

Sons of Legion
Kingston Squadron No. 150, Sons of American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, will hold a rehearsal at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the Legion Memorial building. A full attendance is requested.

WATCH for Tuesday's Freeman....
ANNOUNCING FOUR DAY
AFTER EASTER SALE
Tremendous Savings on
DRESSES—SUITS

GOLD'S RELIABLE SHOP
322 Wall Street—Kingston, New York

Dr. Snyder Heads Two Departments

Native of Kingston Takes Place of Retiring Chief at Ohio State

Dr. Laurence H. Snyder, a native of this city and a nationally known geneticist, will become chairman of Ohio State University's department of zoology and entomology July 1 at Columbus. Dr. Raymond C. Osburn who retires from active faculty service this summer with emeritus status.

The appointment was announced Thursday by President Howard L. Bevis, following the recommendation of Dean John F. Cunningham and approval by the university's board of trustees. The department is one of the largest at Ohio State, having more than 3,000 students annually.

Dr. Osburn has been chairman of the department since 1917 and during 18 years of this period, 1918 to 1936, he was also director of the university's Franz Theodore Stone Laboratory on Gibraltar Island in Lake Erie.

The chairman-elect is a native of Kingston, and a graduate of Curtis High School, New York city. He received the bachelor of science degree from Rutgers University in 1922, the master of science from Harvard in 1924, and the doctor of science from Harvard in 1926.

From 1924 until 1930 Dr. Snyder was on the staff at North Carolina State College, advancing from the rank of instructor to associate professor. Coming to Ohio State in 1930 with the rank of associate professor, he became a full professor three years later. He has held that rank in two departments, medicine and zoology, teaching the subject of genetics in both areas.

In 1933 he offered the first U. S.

course in medical genetics at Ohio State's college of medicine, a subject which has since been introduced into many other medical schools. In 1941 he was called to Duke University to introduce the subject there.

Dr. Snyder is a member of the National Research Council and chairman of its committee on human inheritance. He is a past president of the Eugenics Research Association, and a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Society of Zoologists, the American Society of Naturalists, the Genetics Society of America, Ohio Academy of Science, Sigma Xi, Phi Kappa Phi, Gamma Alpha, Gamma Sigma Delta, Lambda Gamma Delta, and Scabbard and Blade.

He is the author of "Blood Groupings in Relation to Clinical and Legal Medicine", "Principles of Heredity", "Medical Genetics", the section on blood groups in one of the standard encyclopaedias, and of more than 50 articles contributed to scientific journals and magazines. He has been editor of the Ohio Journal of Science, and a member of the editorial boards of Eugenical News and of Our Times.

So far as hobbies are concerned, the change in department chairmanship means that one fisherman succeeds another for both Dr. Snyder and Dr. Osburn are devotees of that sport.

Dr. Osburn was born near Newark, Licking county, Ohio, and taught country school before entering Ohio State. He received the bachelor's degree here in 1898, and the master's in 1909, going then to Columbia for his doctor of philosophy in 1906. While an Ohio State student he was the first president of the Wheaton Club and secretary of the Biological Club.

Returns to Duty

Lt. Harry T. Gumaer of 66 Henry street has returned to Fort Monmouth, N. J., after spending a ten-day furlough at his home.

TABLE PADS

MADE WITH ASBESTOS

$1.79 Sensational Sale!
Leaves up to 12, 79c

3 DAYS ONLY

Made to Measure to Fit Any Shape Table

Phone or write Postal Telegraph who will arrange for a representative of the United Table Pad Company to call at your home for measurements. No charge for this service.

UNITED TABLE PAD CO.

294 FAIR STREET

PHONE 3010

WE MAKE EVENING CALLS

PAINFUL CORNS GO

Removed by New Iodized Liquid

Relief with First Application or Money Back

Webster's Pharmacy

AMERICA'S GREATEST SALE!

WARD WEEK

SAVE NOW ON ALL YOUR NEEDS

Why wait when you can buy now at savings like these! See the special values listed here and the hundreds of others in our store!

SPECIAL FOR WARD WEEK

Sale! Men's
Regular $3.18
Work Outfit

2⁷⁷ shirt, pants

Year's lowest price!
Sanforized! Vat-dyed!

Buy during Ward Week and save extra on this tough, long-wearing work outfit! The good-looking herring-bone pattern is woven-in—it can't wear off. And the sturdy fabrics are Sanforized—they won't shrink over 1%. Colorfast. Comfortable roomy sizes.

GIGANTIC WARD WEEK SLIP SALE!

Regular 1.29
"3-Lengths"

In Fine Rayon Satin by Fruit of the Loom—Or Continental Rayon Crepe

99¢

No wonder smart women from Maine to California wait for Ward Week! When could you find proportioned tailored slips of this quality at such a ridiculously low price? Proportioned not just in length—but in bust, waist, and hips for a perfect fit! Examine the finicky details: rip-proof seams, double yokes, double stitched hems! Plan to buy 2 or 3—take advantage of this big Ward Week saving!

Sale! Regular $1.19 Lace Trimmed Slips

In lovely rayon crepes or satins. Hurry.....

99c

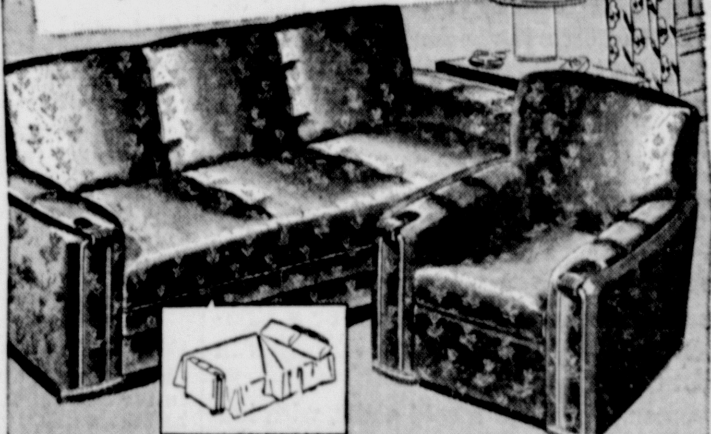

FOR WARD WEEK ONLY!

Sale! Sofa Bed in Rich Velvet! Save Up To $15!

• Rayon and Cotton Velvet!
2 piece Suite.....

44⁹⁴

Don't miss this dollar saving buy in NEW lounging luxury for your home! So big and comfortable for daytime use, this sofa bed, opens to a restful bed with real innerspring comfort! Knuckle arm styling! $5 Monthly, Usual Down Payment and Carrying Charge

REDUCED FOR WARD WEEK

1.59 Rayon
Dress Lengths

All 39" wide!

1⁴⁴

Plain, checked and striped shirtings! Fine washable dress crepes in new prints! Plain poplins, gabardines, shantung weaves! Spun rayon prints! 3 1/2 to 4 yds. long!

Our Best
29c Curtain
Materials

24^{yd.}

Soft marquisettes thick with fluffy cushion dots, colorful woven figures! Some 47" wide.

Seamless Back
Work Shoes—
3.49 Values!

2⁸⁷

Packed with value! Seamless back—won't rip or chafe! Tire-cord soles for superman wear!

Sale! Men's Speed Shirts and Shorts

28^{ea.}

Reduced from 35c! Snug fitting shorts of combed cotton. Elastic waist. Swiss rib shirts.

Reduced from 69c! Men's Work Shirts

57^c

Roomy full cut sizes in sturdy fabrics! Well made with two big pockets, rust-proof buttons.

Ball-bearing Roller Skates

98^c

Nickel-plated, ball-bearing skates! Rubber-cushioned! Smooth, speedy! Buy now!

WE CAN'T ALL
RIDE THE TANKS

... But we can all help to build them and buy them. Buy Defense Stamps. We are proud to offer them for sale here at Wards.

REDUCED FOR WARD WEEK

Wards $7.25
Lawn Mower!

Reduced to 6⁴⁴

Big, easy-rolling wheels... rubber tires... self-sharpening blades! 14-inch cut! A 5-blade mower at a rock-bottom price! Get yours today! Same mower... 16-inch cut... 6.94

SPECIAL FOR WARD WEEK

Modern Plaid Seat Covers

Coupe, 1-piece back

1⁸⁸

Protect your upholstery... enjoy lasting new-car interior! Sturdily tailored of genuine fiber and cloth!

Split-back coupe 2.99
Sedans 4.99

FOR WARD WEEK ONLY!

Decorated Containers

Wards Sale Price

48^c

Choice of step-on pail, bread box, 4-pc. canister set! Colorful matched kitchen containers! Wild Rose pattern on white oven-baked enamel trimmed in red! Snug-fitting covers!

Big Patch Kit
72 Square
Inches Rubber

18^{ea.}

At a slashed price! All necessary materials for tube repairs! Be prepared... keep one handy!

Save Dollars!
90-lb. Roll
Roofing

215

Choice of colors on this heavy slate roll roofing. Fadeproof! Nails and cement included!

Save on Dryfast
Enamel

68^{pt.}

Sale price! Dries to a hard, mirror-like gloss! Hurry in! Quart size NOW only..... 1.26

Supreme Quality
Plug

32^c

With the Knife-Edge electrode that lets spark jump easier for quick start! Save plenty now!

Regular 29c
6-Foot
Steel Tape

22^c

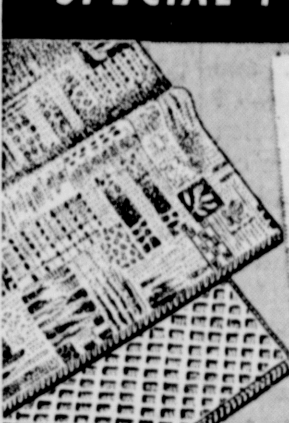

Reduced! With handy button recoil! Graduated in 8ths and 16ths. Come in NOW!

Reg. 49c
Reversible
Dust Mop

42^c

Green cotton yarn, washable, fluff! Chemically treated to hold dust and prevent linting!

SPECIAL FOR WARD WEEK

9x12 Wool Face Axminster Rug

29⁸⁸

Compare others at $5.00 more! 6 Beautiful Patterns in newest designs to choose from! Finest dyes... 9x12 Rug Cushion..... 3.29

SPECIAL FOR WARD WEEK

Sews Forward or Backward!

57⁸⁸

$5 Monthly, usual down payment and carrying charge

Reversible rotary sewing machine... priced for Ward Week to save you up to $20! Thread tension adjusts automatically! Great attachments! Guaranteed for 20 years!

REDUCED FOR WARD WEEK

Genuine Felt Back Linoleum!

Compare at $1.00

79^c

Think of it! Genuine inlaid linoleum on felt back at 20% less than you'd expect to pay! Color goes through to back. Durable! Practical! 6 ft. widths... assorted colors!

MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN

may be used on any purchases totaling $10 or more! Buy NOW... pay LATER!

HEAD OF WALL ST.

GIVE... TO THE RED CROSS WAR FUND

MONTGOMERY WARD

CATALOG ORDER SERVICE

saves you money on thousands of items we haven't room to stock in our store!

TELEPHONE 3856

The Kingston Daily Freeman
By carrier: 20 cents per week
By mail per year in advance: $9.00
By mail per year Outside Ulster County: $9.50
By mail in Ulster County per year: $8.00; six months, $4.50; three months, $2.50; one month, 75c
Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office at Kingston, N. Y.
Jay E. Klock
Editor and Publisher—1891-1936
Published by Freeman Publishing Company, Freeman Square, Kingston, N. Y. Lucie de J. Klock, President; Frederick Hoffman, Vice President; Harry du Bois, Secretary and Treasurer. Address: Freeman Square, Kingston, N. Y.
Member of The Associated Press
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.
All rights of reproduction of special dispatches herein are also reserved.
Member American Newspaper Publishers' Association.
Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Member New York State Publishers' Association.
Member New York Associated Unions.
Official Paper of Kingston City.
Official Paper of Ulster County.
Please address all communications and make all money orders and checks payable to Freeman Publishing Company, Freeman Square.
Telephone Calls
New York Telephone—Main Office, Downtown, 2100.
Uptown Office, 822.
National Representative
Burke, Kulpers & Mahoney, Inc.
New York Office: 420 Lexington Avenue
Chicago Office: 202 N. Wabash Avenue
Atlanta Office: 1220 Rhodes-Haverty Building
Dallas Office: 807 Southwest Life Building
Oklahoma City: 558 First National Building
KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 20, 1942

GOOD SOLDIERS
Here is part of a letter written by an American doctor in Bataan two months ago and reaching this country just the other day: "Living is not too bad. I have a bamboo bed on the ground, a blanket, plenty of water and few too many mosquitoes, snakes and ants. Fair food, including rice, mule, caribou, monkey and a piece of beef occasionally. Everyone is content and in fairly good health. No need to worry. We have plenty of room to maneuver and fight and we have plenty of it left in us."
Reading between the lines, with a little imagination, it is easy to picture some of the sober realities behind that light-hearted letter. The situation already was "deteriorating," as a military man would say. It got rapidly worse after that, with respect to the food, the incessant fighting and lack of sleep, the pressure of the enemy, the wounded and dead and dying friends, the evident hopelessness of the struggle. And yet how those men held on and kept up their courage to the end! Realizing all that, and realizing also how much of the same unwhimpering heroism there is right now on a dozen fronts, and how much more of it there will be for our defenders in foreign lands for years to come, what civilian living his safe and comfortable life here at home can sink to complaining about his petty sacrifices for his country?

DUMB DRIVING
It is probably well known that automobile mishaps are seldom inevitable. They seem to come nearly always from carelessness and dumbness, in about equal parts. For a shining example, consider the series of events in a recent Ohio catastrophe.
A woman driving on a cold night, with her husband as a passenger, stooped over to turn on the heater without first stopping the car. It was in a brightly lighted area and on a three-car lane. The car, lacking proper control, hit a light pole and fell over on its side. Other cars stopped, one after another, and jammed the road. Soon one of them rammed another. A police ambulance car was called and was side-swiped. A third collision occurred when a municipal employee rushed up to look at the damaged light pole. He parked and another driver hit his car. Spectators grew confused and other pile-ups resulted one after another, for no apparent reason. Everybody seemed to be banging into everybody else. Ambulances came, a fire rescue squad was summoned and first aid was applied to the victims. When the confusion cleared, one motorist was dead, two others were seriously injured and half a dozen automobiles were badly damaged.
A little more attention to the job of driving, a little less speed all round, and sensible avoidance of a crowd on the highway, would have prevented all that trouble.

NEWS FROM THE STARS
Newspapers are not inclined to take astrology very seriously, or to pay attention to astrological forecasts, whether amateur or professional. But everything human comes within the scope of journalism, in one way or another, and may deserve an occasional hearing. And it seems that the astrologers, as might be expected, are now very busy with their horoscopes. The world's present state is obviously unsatisfactory. If they really have a private wire or pipe line into futurity, or even if they only imagine that they have, who shall hinder their revelations?
We are told, by an astrological writer discussing "The World Crisis and the Coming Peace," that "peace in 1942 would be to the detriment of the United States." And it is easy to accept that verdict. Any settlement or armistice accepted on the basis of the world situation as it stands today would play into the hands of the destroyers and might wreck civilization.
The same seer, to whom the stars seem to be an open book, proceeds with an interesting prophecy. The period of danger for this country, he declares, will continue until 1949, when we shall emerge triumphantly from the war.
That is reassuring, in a way. But seven years is a long time to wait, even with the promise of victory. Won't the experts take another look at the stars, check up their computations, and see if they can't step things up a little?

OLD-FASHIONED AMERICAN
There will be less color and interest in the United States of America with Hugh Johnson gone. He was one of a type of old-fashioned Americans who are now more seldom seen than they were a generation or two ago. Johnson was what the grandparents would have called "independent." That is to say, he had convictions, had the courage of them, was never afraid to speak out against a man or institution when he thought it was wrong, and next day to speak out with equal boldness and force in favor of it he thought in some respect it was right.
His speech, too, was of that old-fashioned type. It was vigorous, profane, colorful, showing in every line a breath of reading and intensity of thought not even dreamed of by the ordinary orator.
Whether one liked him or didn't, Hugh made a mark on the modern scene. America will miss him.

SCRAP HOARDERS
A farm in southern Ohio had a lot of scrap metal, mostly discarded farm tools, which the three brothers who owned it refused to sell to the government. It now has been seized, and paid for at the rate of four dollars a ton. From it the government has realized enough to build ten tanks.
A little later the authorities may not be so gentle.
Suggestions to Washington planners: It's fine to be foresighted, but we have to win this war before we can win the ensuing peace.
If the building shortage gets worse, it will no longer be a disgrace to be in the doghouse.

THAT BODY OF YOURS
By James W. Barton, M.D.
(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)
ATHLETE'S FOOT
Many of the cases we called 'scald' of the sole of foot and between the toes years ago, were likely ringworm of the feet or athlete's foot as it is popularly called.
I have spoken before of an effective method of prevention by the use of 1 per cent hypochlorite of soda, and of the use of potassium permanganate and Whitfield's ointment in curing obstinate cases.
Another method of treatment is reported by Dr. Edward Francis, Washington, D. C., Medical Director (Retired), United States Public Health Service. In the Journal of the American Medical Association he states that he has used a combination of phenol and camphor with success in curing athlete's foot. After mixing the camphor in liquid phenol the mass is transferred into a vial with stopper suitable for use as a dauber. Keep stoppered when not in use. Experiments show that these two substances may be mixed in the proportion of 3 parts phenol and 1 part camphor.
"The mixture is non-irritating to the skin and may be painted between the toes several times a day, the small rubber stopper of the vial being used as a dauber. The sock may be replaced immediately without danger of corrosion.
I try not to give directions regarding treatment for any condition but as some cases of athlete's foot are so stubborn and resist all forms of treatment, the use of the phenol-camphor combination is worth trying.
The fact that this method is reported by Dr. Francis of the United States Public Health Service who must have encountered many cases, gives it an authoritative standing.
Dr. Francis states that this preparation has been used for other skin ailments such as barber's itch, ringworm of scalp and erysipelas but as far as he is aware has not been used in treating athlete's foot.

Your Feet and Their Ailments
Perfect foot comfort is necessary to get the best out of life. Such conditions as hammer toe, corns, callouses, flat foot, athlete's foot and others prevent you doing your best work. Send today for Dr. Francis's new booklet entitled "Your Feet and Their Ailments" (No. 114) which contains many helpful suggestions on the above conditions. To obtain it just send ten cents and a three-cent stamp to cover cost of handling and mailing. To The Bell Library, Post Office Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y., and mention the Kingston Daily Freeman.
Twenty and Ten Years Ago
April 19, 1922.—Mrs. Harry Lauren was elected president of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Rondout Presbyterian Church.
Death of Archibald McIntyre of O'Neill street.
Martin P. Hines died in his home in Port Ewen.
The body of Adolph Schmidt, who had a general store in Rifton, found in a field near Grand View Inn.
April 20, 1922.—Reported that the hens of Mrs. Robert Post at Halliham's Hill in the Sawkill neighborhood had built a nest in the crotch of a poplar tree, 25 feet above the ground, in which they laid their eggs. To gather the eggs it was necessary to use a ladder.
Snow fell in the Catskill Mountains.
A thief entered the Whiteport school and stole the Victrola and records.
April 19, 1932.—Annual financial drive of local Y. M. C. A. closed with $11,660.50 raised.
Mrs. M. Westbrook Snyder died in her home, 19 John street.
The county fair grounds in Ellenville would become the property of School District No. 29, if action inaugurated by village education board was ratified by the voters.
Miss Gladys Hopper was elected president of the Schubert Choral Club of the Y. W. C. A.
April 20, 1932.—The General Contractors' Association, composed of the leading contractors of Kingston declared an open shop in the city.
There was an epidemic of burglaries on Fair street during night. Sweeney & Schonger's store, Stuyvesant Barber Shop, Hoyt's Jewelry store and Kingston Lumber Company, were entered by thieves.
Henry Lemister caught the first Hudson river shad of season off Kingston Point.
Newton R. Van Valkenburgh, building contractor, died in his home in Saugerties.
Fred L. Van Deusen installed as president of the Kingston Triangle Club at the Y. M. C. A.

HIGHLAND Lodge Meeting Held
Highland, April 18.—The district meeting in honor of District Deputy Grand Matron Edna N. Budd, Ellenville, and District Grand Lecturer Samuel McCoubrey, Windham, was held at Highland Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Tuesday evening. There were 160 who attended from the chapters of the Greene-Ulster district and visiting chapters. All officers present and Worthy Matron Mrs. Minnie Schmalkuch and Worthy Patron Mrs. Washington presided.
Present and past grand officers, present matrons and patrons, and the past matrons and patrons of Highland chapter acted as escorts for the reception of the district officers. R. W. Mrs. Olympia Cottine acted as grand conductress, introducing the district deputy in a pleasant manner, and R. W. Gertrude Coulter, acting grand marshal, presented the district grand lecturer with appropriate remarks. The district deputy received the following grand officers: M. W. Alice M. Scardfield, past grand matron and grand treasurer; R. W. Anna Van Aken, Kingston; R. W. Josie Rackett; R. W. Catherine Greer, district deputy of the Dutchess, Columbia, Putnam district; past grand officers, Mrs. Lena G. White, Gertrude Egbertson, Marguerite Wessels, Kingston; Florence D. Plass, Highland; Mrs. Nellie Freer, Catskill; Mrs. Florence Hoagland, Thomas Washington; Mrs. Ethel Bradshaw; Mrs. Ellen Rathgeb, Mrs. Anna Maynard, Mrs. Florence Palmer, Mrs. Rachel Dayton, Mrs. Ethel Finley, Mrs. Jennie DuBois, Mrs. Olympia Cottine, Mrs. Gertrude Coulter, Mrs. Florence E. Cotant, junior past matron; Kenneth DuBois; Gordon Craig, patron of Clinton chapter, Kingston.
Addresses were given by the guests of honor, also M. W. Alice Scardfield, past grand matron and present grand treasurer; Mrs. Van Aken, Mrs. Rackett, Mrs. Catherine Greer.
The members expressed sympathy to the worthy matron for the death of a relative, Mrs. Suzanne Decker and Mrs. Mary Bell were reported on the sick list.
Invitations were received from Cairo chapter for April 25, Marantha chapter, May 4 and Mount Tabor chapter, May 7, when the district officers will be honored. Acknowledgment was received from Sergeant Frederick Erickson for a sweater sent him by the chapter and from Mrs. Decker for sympathy and flowers at the time of her husband's death. Mrs. Cottine, secretary, read a letter from Mrs. Camilla Weightman, adopted member at the Home for the Aged, Oriskany.
An impressive patriotic degree was given in honor of the district officers with Mrs. Ethel Finley as Columbia; attendants, Mrs. Ella Fischer, Mrs. Lena Dirk, Mrs. Anna Maynard, Mrs. Ellen Rathgeb, Mrs. Cecile Peterson, Mrs. Edna Tompkins, Mrs. Jennie DuBois, Mrs. Ethel Bradshaw. A bouquet in the star colors was presented to Mrs. Budd and the matron tied them with red, white and blue ribbon. Mrs. Lillian Sheeley, associate matron, presented gifts to Mrs. Budd and Mr. McCoubrey in behalf of the officers, and a gift to the matron from the officers.
Sandwiches, pickles, cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Lulu Schuhle, Mrs. Lillian Sheeley, Mrs. Betty Fisher, Mrs. Ethel Coutant, Mrs. Bertha Van Aist, Mrs. Berthine White, Mrs. Martha Schantz, Mrs. Carrie DuBois, Mrs. Jennie DuBois, Mrs. Carrie Martin, Mrs. Grace Olree, assisted by members and husbands.

The committee for April 28 is Mrs. Vida Sutton, chairman; Mrs. Ella Ostrander, Mrs. Mary Minard, Mrs. Helen Ward, Mrs. Lizzie Minard.
Church Women Meet
Highland, April 18.—The April meeting of the Highland Council of Church Women was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles DuBois on Maple avenue. As chairman of the council, Mrs. D. S. Haynes presided. She used the 15th chapter of the first Corinthians in her devotion and gave the new slogan for the May luncheon and the coming year, "With Malice Toward None and Charity for All." After Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb's prayer for courage and unity and the minutes and routine reports, cards and letters from the Highland boys in service were read and filed with the recording secretary, Mrs. John J. Gaffney. This file of "thank you" for Christmas goodies sent by the council is available to any church group which would like to peruse them. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. DuBois and her committee on suggested reading. Mrs. DuBois reported that the book committee of the Highland Free Library Association was ready to cooperate with the council in the purchase of a copy of one book used in each day school of Religious Education and also two books of devotional character to be chosen by the four local pastors. It was then announced that Mrs. Mary Lockhart is to be general chairman of the May luncheon of Church Women which is to be held the first Thursday of May throughout many countries as well as the United States. The Highland women of all faiths will gather at 12:30 o'clock on May 7 at St. Augustine's Church for the fellowship of luncheon and program. Committees to assist the hostesses church will be formed during the week and announced in next week's column. Mrs. Samuel A. McCormack closed the meeting with a prayer for fellowship. Those present at the meeting were: Mrs. D. S. Haynes, Mrs. S. A. McCormack, Mrs. John J. Gaffney, Mrs. Ella H. Burchell, Mrs. George DuBois, Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb, Mrs. A. W. Lent, Mrs. Frank Valenti, Mrs. Harry Gould, Mrs. Peter Evans, Mrs. J. R. Melius and Mrs. Franklin Welker.

Village Notes
Highland, April 18.—Queen Esther Club members have received letters from the two young men in the service who they have adopted. Gifts to them have been acknowledged and one of them in a transfer said it brought him nearly 200 miles nearer his home town. The meeting of the club was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold A. Lent at New Paltz. The members continue their work on piecing quilt blocks and knitting. For entertainment they choose sides and had a quiz to see how many could remain standing by answering the questions. Present were the president, Mrs. George DuBois, Mrs.

Leon Burnett, Mrs. Jacob Schuhle, Mrs. Fred Snider, Mrs. George Cornell, Mrs. Myron Kniffin, Mrs. Charles DuBois, the Misses Edith and Hattie Dickinson, Mrs. Parker Decker, Mrs. William Russell, Mrs. Luther Filkins, Mrs. Ralph Lyons, Mrs. W. H. Maynard and the hostess, who served refreshments. The meeting in two weeks will be with Mrs. Louis Palmer and the entertainment in charge of Mrs. Russell.
The Highland Drum Corps accompanied the 16 young men to New Paltz Thursday morning as they departed for various camps. Those going were Nicholas Trinke, Fred Cappillano, and this is the third of the Cappillano brothers who have entered the service: Cecil Burger, Isaac Palmatier, Richard Glassford, George Lent, Howard Thorn, Robert Linden, Anthony Stillavato, Louis Morano, Salvatore Ferrino, Joseph Grimm, Anthony P. Prospero, Joseph Ligotina, Oscar F. Voght, Philip J. Cisiano.

Fire destroyed an outbuilding at Riverside about midnight Wednesday. It adjoined the former Riverside school building, a dwelling now occupied by the Thomas Nardone family. Firemen used the booster tank and prevented flames from catching on the nearby house.
Mrs. D. S. Haynes, Mrs. Jennie Abrams, Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail, Mrs. A. W. Lent, Mrs. Hudson Covert and Mrs. William Waterbury attended the meeting of the North River Presbyterian held at Freedom Plains, Thursday, April 18. Mrs. Lent was acting secretary for the meeting.

More Than 1,500 Workers File Unemployment Claims
Albany, April 19.—More than 1,500 workers who were formerly employed in New York state filed claims for unemployment insurance against this state during February, according to an announcement made today by Milton O. Loysen, executive director of the Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance.
"Jobless workers in 45 states and territories were among the 1,506 who filed claims," said Mr. Loysen. "Of this total, 391 were disqualified for various eligibility reasons. The sum total of out-of-state benefits paid amounted to $181,849 in the form of 13,736 individual checks."

Mr. Loysen pointed out that through interstate co-operation a jobless worker who was employed in New York state and who moved to another state in order to seek employment, is eligible to obtain unemployment insurance under the New York state unemployment insurance law. He emphasized, however, that only those workers who were separated from their employment through no fault of their own and who are obviously trying to find work, are qualified to receive benefits.

Today in Washington
Question of Bitter Partisan Conflict at This Time Is Worrying Both Democrats and Republicans
By DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington, April 20.—Must America have a bitter political campaign in the midst of the most difficult and dangerous war in our whole history?
This question is beginning to worry loyal citizens in both the Republican and Democratic parties. Britain has not had a general election during the war and neither has Canada and if the United States had the same parliamentary system as our sister democracies there would be no election at a time such as this.
But while the constitution calls for a congressional election every two years, a voluntary agreement between the two major parties can be made merely to confine the election to the routine reelection of the existing members of both houses irrespective of party.
There is much talk about "freezing" prices and freezing open and closed shops and freezing other controversial issues that may interfere with the all-out war effort so it is logical to consider freezing the relative position of the two major parties in the Senate and House.
The process of accomplishing such a result would be simple. Each of the two National party organizations would agree with the other not to campaign against the candidates who hold seats in Congress. While a few would-be candidates might arise here and there to disregard such a plan and there legally do so the number would be negligible and the country would still be spared a bitter campaign on a nationwide scale.
If the election were held tomorrow, this correspondent firmly believes the Republicans would capture the House of Representatives and make heavy gains in the Senate. This would be because a substantial anti-war and isolationist vote exists and this, together with the vast number who feel that the New Deal has arbitrarily deprived the minority of its rights on many domestic issues, could constitute a balance of power which would easily be ample to swing about 55 to 60 districts or even more. A change in 53 districts would give the Republicans control of the House.
But the administration knows this situation and whether it cares to admit it or not, the strategy of the party in power would be to take no chances and to open up to the isolationists with all kinds of political guns. The Republicans could be assailed as responsible for lack of military preparation before Pearl Harbor and as being anxious to approve a "negotiated" peace. This is not true but the cry would be raised that the election of a Republican House would be "aid and comfort" to Hitler and Goebbels. Loyal members of Congress would be smeared by innuendo and altogether one cannot imagine more real and substantial comfort to Hitler and Goebbels than to see America's energies diverted from all-out war to all-out politics. In the end it would not be surprising to see many Republicans voting the Democratic ticket just to prevent the result from being misconstrued abroad and thus the Republicans would lose the election.
Given five months of the New Deal tactics of the past with the use of public funds and a bitter campaign waged on war issues and this correspondent then believes the Republicans would be defeated. The latter have everything to gain therefore in public prestige by joining a movement to forego the 1942 contest because if the war is over by 1944 they will derive any political advantages that would accrue now from the anti-war feeling. Back in 1920 the Republicans had the anti-war vote and won easily even though their presidential candidate was the weakest of those in the race at the convention.
In order to get unity on the 1942 campaign problem, it would be helpful if the President were to make certain changes in the management of the government machine so that the minority would have some representation in the cabinet and in those key positions where economic policies are decided. While Republicans are at the head of the war and navy departments they have no real influence in the government's handling of the economic and labor problems which are disturbing national unity. But even if the administration is so shortsighted as to continue to ride roughshod over minority rights by its arbitrary use of the regulatory and prosecuting power, the Republicans would be in a better position before the country if they took the initiative now in proposing that there be no 1942 political campaign. Where vacancies occur or withdrawals of incumbent members take place, the political complexion of the House could be maintained under the same agreement to refrain from supporting rival candidates who do not abide by the voluntary understanding entered into by the congressional leaders of both parties. There are doubtless many objections to the plan. So are there objections to any wartime sacrifices. But to win the war is paramount and America will not be as effective in the next six months going on as we would be without such a contest as will inevitably ensue if restraints are not self-imposed.
(Reproduction Rights Reserved)

"AT CENTURY'S TURN"
By H. L. VAN DEUSEN
In the many men, prominent and otherwise, who I have met in more than thirty years of newspaper work one of the most colorful personalities was Jacob Huben, who died on March 4, 1925, in his home in Rosendale.
Mr. Huben for years had served as constable of the village of Rosendale and also had served a long term of years as a deputy sheriff of Ulster county.
He was a man with a keen sense of humor and newspaper men who found themselves at times hard up for readable copy always welcomed Mr. Huben's almost daily visits to the court house on Wall street for he invariably was able to furnish some incident in which a readable yarn could be based.
Among some of the tales he told I recall the one of the vanishing pseudo nobleman. The deputy sheriff related with many a chuckle of how the "nobleman" had dropped into Rosendale and made his home there for some time and then suddenly disappeared, leaving behind a menagerie, including some monkeys and other animals not generally found in Ulster county homes.
Another of his tales was the one of the burglar who had committed a big silver robbery out of town and with his loot had gone to Rosendale. Here he was captured by Mr. Huben, but the loot had mysteriously disappeared.
Mr. Huben gravely informed the newspapermen that he planned to hire a team of horses and a plow and plow up some vacant land in the village where he was almost certain that the burglar had buried his loot.
Those were but a few of the tales that he told and which were printed in The Freeman in the days before the first World War in 1918, causing many a smile on the part of the reader.
During his long and active career Mr. Huben made many friends by his honesty and integrity. As constable and deputy sheriff he made a record for efficiency. Those who knew him well valued his friendship.
The long heralded basketball game between the Newburgh and Kingston post office employees was finally staged on February 28, 1925, in the Holy Cross parish house in the Kingston men taking the visiting postmen in tow to the tune of 25-5.
Following the game the visitors were entertained at a banquet in Mannerchor Hall on the Strand where Postmaster Brundage of Newburgh and Postmaster Walter P. Crane of Kingston, were the principal speakers.

Washington In Wartime
By Jack Stinnett
Washington—Robert H. Hinckley is tackling the biggest air-conditioning job in history.
He wants to "air-condition" the whole country. Lest that raise a picture of a vast sealed dome stretching from Seattle to Miami and Boston to San Diego, with filters going full blast day and night, let me hasten to make clear what Hinckley means.
Hinckley is assistant secretary of commerce for air. To him it's not enough that America be "air-minded."
"This and succeeding generations," he explains, "must become what I call 'air-conditioned' if the United States is to be a nation on wings, which it is surely going to be."
"When I say air-conditioned I mean that we must become conditioned to the air and the machines of the air in just the same way that we are conditioned to the ground and the machines of the ground."
"Today we pilot an automobile along the ground as easily as we walk, with as little conscious thought or effort. We must learn to pilot an airplane through the air with the same sure, almost automatic responses."
The announcement that aeronautics is to be taught in the nation's high schools was a big slap on the back for general, bald-headed Bob Hinckley, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, under Hinckley, and the Office of Education, backed by the Army

AMERICA NEEDS YOUR HELP—NOW!
FILL THIS OUT — Give It to Your Freeman Carrier Boy
WAR STAMP ORDER FORM
The Kingston Daily Freeman Boy:
Yes, I want to do my bit by buying War Stamps of 10c denomination every week ... I would like to have you deliver (Number of Stamps) 10c War Savings Stamps every week until further notice.
NAME
ADDRESS
CITY STATE ROUTE NO.
BRANCH
THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN

Parachute Troops Soon May Live by Eating Plant Life

Grass and Bark Soon May Provide Sustenance as Science Also Tells of Aid for Wounded

Memphis, Tenn., April 20 (AP)—American parachute troops may soon be able to actually live off the land by eating grass or gnawing the bark off trees.

This is no fanciful theory, Dr. Gustav J. Martin of the Warner Institute for Therapeutic Research, New York city, told the American Chemical Society today. It has actually been done with both rats and men.

The secret is in getting the right kind of bacteria into the intestines. This can be done by the administration of a honey-like chocolate-tasting fluid containing the bacteria for a period of about a month.

These bacteria drive other germs out of the system and make it possible for a person to eat leaves, grass or wood—anything containing cellulose—and to convert it into useful food. The process is primarily one of enabling the digestive system to synthesize the factors of the vitamin B complex, Dr. Martin declared.

"There is no question of the fact that these bacteria synthesize various vitamin B complex factors," he declared. "Pantothenic acid, the anti-gray hair factor, stimulates the growth of the bacteria which synthesize inositol, another part of the B complex, but if pantothenic acid is absent from the diet these micro-organisms will not grow, and thus the necessary synthesis does not occur."

The New York scientist got his clue to promoting the growth of "good" bacteria in the intestines by studying the digestion of the cow.

Aid for Wounded Is Reported

St. Paul, April 20 (AP)—A prefabricated food, which may be a new aid for wounded soldiers, was exhibited to the American College of Physicians annual convention here today.

This food is in shape for immediate assimilation by blood and tissues, without the usual digestion. It is made of a score of amino acids, the building stones of living tissues, which are products of ordinary digestion of proteins. It lacks the calories of proteins.

The food is made from meat, cereals, skim milk and yeast. These are treated with digestive enzymes, so that the acids are the products of robot digestion.

Twenty-two medical and nutritional studies indicating the value of prefabricated food were reported by Dr. J. H. Frazer, of the Arlington Chemical Co., Yonkers, N. Y. The studies were made by authorities in colleges and medical institutions and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The material has proved useful for burns, hemorrhages, wounds of all sorts and infections. These comprise the main ailments of soldiers.

The food is not a substitute for transfusion of blood or plasma, but is an aid. The acids are given also to people who try to reduce too rapidly, those who eat sweets in excess at the expense of proteins, and after surgery.

Fire Destroys Bomber

Mitchell Field, N. Y., April 20 (AP)—Fire today destroyed a medium bomber being warmed up for a "routine operation" but none of its crew was injured. Lieut. Harry Kelliher, Mitchell Field public relations officer, said the plane's right motor burst into flames at 5:20 a. m. (E.W.T.) and spread over the entire ship, causing two "moderate" explosions. The officer said the bomber was fully loaded with gasoline, which exploded as the fire reached the tanks. "There was no evidence of sabotage," Lieut. Kelliher said, "nor anything to indicate it was other than a natural accident."

The ship, he added, was well out on the take-off line and not near any other aircraft.

Switzerland has restricted the making of candy.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, April 20 — James O. LeFevre attended a meeting and dinner of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. executives and newspaper editors of the Ulster-Greene area held Monday evening at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston. The Central Hudson was host at the dinner which followed the round table discussion.

Miss Kathryn Van Keuren spent her spring vacation in Ellenville. The Hudson Valley Mount Holyoke College annual luncheon was held at the Old Fort Tea Room on Huguenot street, Saturday, April 18.

Mrs. Olive McNutt of New Paltz was elected to membership to the Ida McKinley Council, Daughters of America at their meeting held in the Odd Fellows Hall, Highland, Wednesday night. Mrs. McNutt will be initiated May 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dunham of Long Island spent their spring vacation with relatives in town.

Mrs. W. Edwards was a super guest of Mrs. Gussie Miller in Gardiner Saturday.

Mrs. E. Van Vliet and Wesley Van Vliet visited New York Monday.

The annual luncheon of the Wallkill Woman's Club will be held at the Old Fort, this village, May 16.

Miss Esther Bensley, art teacher at New Paltz Normal School, will give a talk on "High Lights of a World's Cruise."

Mrs. Alexander Cuthbert has returned from spending four days with her sister in New York city. The New Paltz Study Club will have a treat at their meeting on Tuesday, April 21, when Miss Katherine Hunt of the decorating department, Sterns, New York city, will give some of the latest in interior decorating.

The Girl Scouts of New Paltz will have their annual cookie sale this week.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt C. Seward entertained Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Elston of Poughkeepsie over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schmalkuche visited their son, Edward, at the Newport Naval Training Station last Saturday.

Mrs. Jacob Deyo is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Pratt in Highland.

A total of 476 books have been contributed by the people of New Paltz and community for the Victory Book Campaign which the Elting Memorial Library shipped away. There still remains a need for more books. In co-operation with this worthy cause the New Paltz theatre sponsored a "Bring a Book" show on Friday evening, April 17 and Saturday afternoon, April 18.

The New Paltz Rod and Gun Club held a trapshoot at its club grounds north of town on Sunday. Traps opened at 1:30 o'clock with a fair crowd in attendance. The shoot was a Lewis Class contest at 50 targets, the winners were determined by their place in the entire list of scores from high to low instead of by the size of their scores.

Jesse Quick and daughter, Mrs. Blanche Clynne, were guests of his

NORMANDIE BURNS AGAIN

Turned over on its side and half submerged since it burned February 9, the former French luxury liner Normandie burst into flames again as salvage workers were in the midst of getting the big ship ready to be righted. The smoke pouring from the liner almost obscures it in its Hudson River berth.

sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Samson Osterhoudt at Pataukunk Sunday.

A meeting of the Men's Forum of the Reformed Church was held Wednesday evening.

Miss Edna Dugan spent Sunday with Mrs. Gussie Miller in Gardiner.

George Zimmerman of Huntington, L. I., was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Zimmerman last week.

Milk Must Be Graded

Albany, N. Y., April 20 (AP)—Cheese made from the milk that many New York milkshed dairymen are selling to cheese factories for the first time must be at least No. 1 grade to meet standards of the government's food-for-freedom program. With several hundred new cheese factories in operation this year, the government operating Netherlands Dairy Company's cheese-making plant at Syracuse, the Federal Bureau of Dairy Industry is launching a campaign to eliminate under-grade cheese.

Urge Coeds Take Math

Berkeley, Calif. (AP)—Encouragement of coeds to enroll in mathematics courses is an aspect of war effort at the University of California. "Women who know trigonometry can find jobs readily in war industries," says Dean Elmer E. Goldworthy.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, April 20 — The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the fire house.

The softball team of the Men's Community Club will hold the first practice of the season tomorrow evening at the playground field at 6:30 o'clock.

In the Men's Club bowling this evening team 1 will play team 2 at 7 o'clock. There will be open bowling after the scheduled games.

The Friendship Society of the Methodist Church will meet tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock in the church hall. A pot luck supper will be served after which there will be a business meeting followed by games.

Hope Temple, No. 80, Pythian Sisters, will meet Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Pythian Hall.

The St. Martin's Club will hold a dance in St. Leo's Hall, Friday, May 1.

Gas defense school, consisting of three sessions of two hours each will be held Monday, April 20, Friday, April 24 and Monday, April 27 at St. Leo's Hall in Port Ewen at 7:30 p. m. Civilian defense workers are requested to enroll and attend all of these sessions.

New York Offices Begin System of Stagger Arrivals

New York, April 20 (AP)—John Q. Whitcomb came to work 30 minutes late today, but the office manager merely smiled a good morning.

Yes, it can and did happen here—not only Mr. Whitcomb, but also some 150,000 other men and women office workers checked in either a little early or a little late as the city began its wartime "stagger-system" of working hours in order to relieve subway congestion.

The "stagger-system" was put forward by City Commerce Commissioner George A. Sloan to cut down the peaks of morning and evening travel.

In addition to easing the transit burden by shifting the arrival and departure hours for office workers, Sloan said the new plan should reduce large concentrations of people entering or leaving subway stations at street level and thus lessen likelihood of heavy casualties in event of a bombing. Sloan said he was confident the voluntary program would make it possible to avoid mandatory regulations.

Farm Real Estate Values Are Rising

N. Y. Increase Very Slight Compared to National Average

Albany—New York farm land with improvements increased slightly in value during the year ending March 1, 1942, the index of value per acre at 87 (when the 1912-14 average equals 100) representing a 1 point rise over each of the previous three years, reported uniformly at 86. It also represents a return to the 1938 level of 87 and is 5 points higher than the depression low of 82 in 1933 and 1934, according to a federal-state report issued from the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

At the same time, the national per acre values increased to 91 from 86 reported a year earlier.

Movements in farm real estate prices usually take place rather slowly, though there was a very rapid rise from 1912-14 to 1920 when the New York values per acre rose 33 per cent and those in the United States rose 70 per cent with per acre values in a few states more than doubling in the period. After the 1920 peak, a sharp recession took place in the early twenties, and again in the early thirties, the state index dropping to 82 in 1933 with the United States dropping to 73 in that year. Indexes as low as 48 to 60 occurred in several states.

From the 1933 low, the state index rose to 87 in 1938, the previous high point of the post-depression period, while the United States index reached 85 in 1937 and remained at nearly that level until 1941.

In commenting on the situation throughout the country, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics indicates that the value increases are attributable to higher current farm commodity prices which rose more than 40 per cent during the year, and to larger cash farm income which was about 30 per cent higher in 1941 than in 1940. Many farmers recall the serious consequences of the high land value levels reached during and immediately following World War I. This recollection is operating in the direction of cautious land value responses to war-time prices. The probable temporary character of current farm commodity prices is still being recognized.

It is not yet clear whether the failure of New York farm real estate values to rise more than they have is due to the fact that operating problems in agriculture in this highly industrialized region have cancelled out the brighter prospects for farming that would be expected from recent increases in farm prices, or whether there is simply a lag in the response of land values to price rises.

Alaska, famous as a gold producer, had its mining start when Russians exploited gold deposits on Cook inlet in 1854.

LOANS

without co-signers

We make loans of $25 to $500 on signature only or on furniture or auto, to credit-worthy folks, single or married, whether on a new job or an old one. No wage assignment. Outside not involved. Moderate monthly payments. FOR EXAMPLE: $8.08 a month repays a $100 loan in 15 months. Friendly consideration and quick service come in or phone today.

Personal FINANCE CO.

319 Wall St., 2d Fl. Kingston, N. Y. Ph. Kingston 3470 Ask for Mr. Anderson

PHONE 735 FOR COAL

EGG STOVE NUT $11.00 PEA $9.00 BUCKWHEAT .. $8.00 TON RICE $7.00

All Coal Washed and Screened

JOHN T. FREDERICK, JR. Inc. 55-63 DEYO ST. PHONE 735

UNCLE SAM WANTS YOUR "DON'T WANTS"

This week is your opportunity to do a big job for Uncle Sam by selling your "don't want" through a Want Ad. Whatever you have to sell, you will find a ready-made list of prospects during National Want Ad Week. Washing machines, vacuum cleaners, lawnmowers, vacuum are made of vital defense materials. Others are eager to buy them. Get them out and advertise them with a well worded Want Ad.

Kingston Freeman

ONE-YEAR TIRES CAN BE THREE-YEAR TIRES!

Your Esso Dealer will help you get that extra mileage

If the tires you are now driving would last about 12 months Then follow these simple rules to add an extra 24 months of tire life, so that the rubber may serve both you and your country.

1 DRIVE UNDER 40 MILES PER HOUR

By setting 40 miles per hour as your maximum and not more than 30 miles per hour as your usual speed, you can get up to 12 months' extra wear. Remember—tires wear out TWICE as fast at 50 as they do at 30!

12 months

2 LET US CHECK INFLATION EVERY WEEK

A tire that is 30% below proper pressure will last only three-fourths as long as it should. Your Esso Dealer's air pumps have been checked for accuracy. Proper inflation can increase tire life by as much as . . .

3 months

3 AVOID COWBOY STARTS AND STOPS

These waste rubber and cut tire life. By taking it easy, you can prolong tire use up to . . .

3 months

4 Let an ESSO DEALER CROSS-SWITCH TIRES, using spare

At least every six months, have tires scientifically cross-switched by your Esso Dealer. Use all five of your tires! This, with regular attention to wheel alignment, wheel and tire balance, quick repair of small cuts and bruises, removal of oil and grease from tires, and avoidance of scuffing, can add extra service up to . . .

6 months

COLONIAL BEACON OIL COMPANY

Care Saves Wear

TOTAL 3 YEARS

Copyright 1942, Esso Inc.

THEY DO EVERYTHING BUT FLY—

Donald M. Kenower
OFFICIAL TEST DRIVER
WILLYS-OVERLAND SCOUT
CAR DIVISION

CAMELS ARE THE BRAND FOR ME. THEY HAVE THE MILDNESS THAT COUNTS AND A FLAVOR THAT ALWAYS HITS THE SPOT

IMPORTANT TO STEADY SMOKERS:

The smoke of slow-burning

CAMELS

contains

LESS NICOTINE

than that of the four other largest-selling brands tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself!

Lady April
And now comes Lady April with her eyes brimful of tears. But behind those tears a smile is tucked away. She'll act just like she always has, for years and years and years.

For she doesn't give a cent what folks may say.
I don't quite understand this lovely lady, it is true.
And she shocks me sometimes with her wilful wiles—
Alas, those copious tears of hers have drenched me through and through.
Yet I just can't help but love her when she smiles!

—Lola F. Echard

We dunno what the world is coming to . . . since we don't get any more temperature reports over the radio and the weather forecasts have been censored and if we want to know what the weather is doing we have to get up out of our warm chair and see. That is a hardship many will find hard to endure.

A Scot, an Englishman and a Frenchman had dinner together. To everyone's astonishment, at the close of the meal, the Scotsman spoke up and demanded the check. Headline in the newspapers next morning—French Ventriquist Mysteriously Murdered.

Last Laugh
He who laughs last laughs best, they say, O little slant-eyed guy.
Do your laughing while you may, we'll laugh till you die. You thought we'd be like Ferdinand and sit among the flowers.
And not stand up and fight at all to save this land of ours.
And some day just like Ferdinand, I'm sure we shall behave.
We'll sit for hours and smell the flowers that bloom upon your grave.

Carmen V. Carter.

Blonde Waitress—I have stuffed heart, boiled tongue, fried liver and pig's feet.

Traveling Salesman—Don't tell me your troubles, sister. Just give me some roast beef!

The more style some people put on the more creditors they put off.

Hocus—Who first introduced salt pork into the navy?
Focus—Noah, when he took Ham into the ark.

The only difference between a cutie and old maid is that the cutie goes out every evening with the Johnnies and the old maid sits at home with the willies.

The demure-looking little man approached the haughty clerk in a grocery store and meekly asked if he had any coffee to sell.
Grocer—We have ground coffee.

Little Man—No other kind?
Grocer—None. This is the best ground coffee on the market.

Little Man—But I don't want it. I got some sugar here the other day with sand in it, and I don't want coffee with ground in it. You must think I want the earth.

We understand that there are people who actually believe that their troubles interest others.

Telephone Inquirer—Is Mrs. Rowdybush at home?
Maid—If you are one of de ladies what's goin' ter play bridge with her, she am. If you ain't, she ain't.

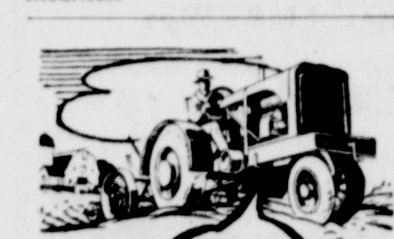

Don't shoot until you see the slants of their eyes.
Pryer—I see in the paper that in some out-of-the-way corners of the world the natives still use fish for money.
Fryer—What a job they must have getting chewing gum from a slot machine.

We heard a girl complaining the other day of the growing shortage of young men, declaring that "all the worthwhile young fellows were going to war." That is certainly a very serious and tragic situation, but we are quite sure that our girls will find some way to endure it cheerfully.

Moss Features Syndicate
Greensboro, N. C.

68 FACE PRICE CHARGES

Three aldermen of Drogheda, Eire, were included in the list of 68 prominent merchants summoned to appear in the court of District Justice McCann as a result of a recent investigation of violations of Control of Prices Orders. Seven officials of the Eire Department of Supplies "shopped" for a week in building up their charges of failure to keep proper records and to display lists of commodities.

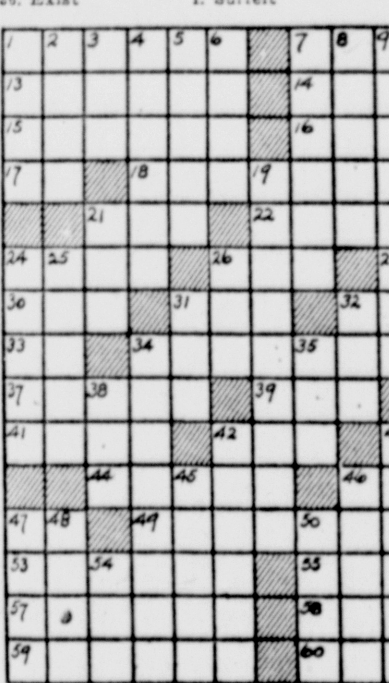

Word has leaked out that you need money. You never realized that I am worth all the cash you need. I can still wear out a team of horses. Sell me through a Want Ad.

NATIONAL WANT AD WEEK

Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1. Opportunity
3. Nuts
13. Body of water
14. Chemical vessel
15. Carry too far
16. Based on the number nine
17. Pronoun
18. Communication
19. Whirlwind off the Faroe Islands
21. Tablet
22. Notions
23. Stuffy
24. Mountain in Crete
27. Large fish
28. Hovel
29. Poem
30. Singing voice
31. Article
32. Perverse
33. Exalt

DOWN
2. European blackbird
3. Indefinite amount
4. Dry
10. Open court
11. Odd times
12. Festival
13. Stems
14. Propel with oars
15. Behold
16. Had confidence in
17. Rough lava; Hawaiian
18. Be present at
19. Call forth
20. Evening party
21. Western state
22. Verb forms expressing time
23. Greek weight
24. DOWN
25. Surfeit

GRAPES RECAPS
RAVINE ENAMEL
AVENOR SAMITE
TER NASUTERE
IL GALE RIT
NIP SLIT LIFE
GNOSTIC SLOYD
OHIO DIET
ALDER DILUENT
VILE SHOO DOR
ETE BLOC MY
NE FLOWER NIS
ARARAT SILENT
GARISH EPOPEE
ELATES SENSED

Solution Of Saturday's Puzzle

1. Possess
2. Time of life
3. Masculine name
4. Placed in cipher
5. Son of Seth
6. Dish of bread and milk
7. Funeral oration
8. Wedge-shaped
9. City in Oklahoma
10. Roman tyrant
11. Former spelling of sky
12. Footways along a street
13. Place
14. Orb of day
15. East Indian
16. Singing bird
17. One who adjusts the pitch
18. Artificial language
19. Invariant of dynamite
20. Asiatic palm
21. Source of metal
22. Attempt
23. Gratifies one's vanity
24. Conjunction
25. Thing; law
26. Behold
27. Baffles
28. She who rode through Coventry
29. Wild buffalo of India
30. Bent again
31. Final
32. American Indian
33. Playing cards
34. Assistant
35. Perfume variant
36. Metal
37. Feline animal

Secret Orders

Chapter Ten
New Neighbors

"WELL, fancy seeing you here!" Stephanie laughed as Henri strode nearer. "What in the world are you doing down here?"

Henri swept off his hat, smiling as he explained, "Oh, just killing off a little time, as you say. Waiting for some friends who have promised to take me on a little yachting trip up the Bay."

Stephanie glanced over his shoulder to the smelly little fishing boat. "Not in that?"

"Oh, no," Henri laughed too. "I was just curious to see what a fishing boat looks like. I was about to ask that worthy seaman if I might have a look around his craft."

"Well, you've more curiosity than sense of smell, I see," and then she suddenly became aware that her father stood in stony silence. "Daddy, you remember Henri de la Pagerie, don't you?"

Guy Merrill bowed stiffly. "I remember Mr. Pagerie very well."

But no greeting. He didn't even offer to shake hands. Embarrassed, Stephanie flushed, murmured, "Nice to have seen you, Henri. We must run along. Daddy's had an accident to his arm."

"So I noticed. I am very sorry, sir. Nothing serious I hope."

Still her father only shook his head coldly.

"No—it was just a burn. You see there was an explosion at—"

"Come along Stephanie," her father interrupted curtly. "Good afternoon, sir."

And then before she could say more, he hurried her along the dock and away from Henri.

"Goodbye," she called trying to cover her confusion with a little laugh. "See you later."

Henri smiled, nodded. "I hope you won't. Guy Merrill said gruffly."

"Hope I won't what?"

"See that boulder again. I don't like him."

"So I noticed," she said curtly. "I don't know why you choose to be rude to him, Daddy."

He climbed into the car after her, slammed the door viciously. "I don't know either. Don't like his looks. Too smooth. Besides, I'm sure I've seen him somewhere before and the associated impression isn't good."

"You couldn't have met him, Daddy. You're mistaken and probably prejudiced because he has that foreign air."

The "Accident"
"YOU'RE damned right I'm prejudiced," Guy braced himself cautiously as Stephanie turned the car off the Embarradero and up a steep hill. "If you like him that's your business. But you needn't expect me to be pals with a bird like that."

Stephanie laughed. "Daddy, you're being an old woman. Just because Henri's different from the boys I've known and—"

"Different in putting it mildly." Then he eyed her quizzically. "How come you're putting up such a fight for this foreigner?"

Stephanie hesitated. Why was she? "Well—he's a good friend of Vicky's. Aunt Allison likes him."

"She would! Al always did fall for that kind of stuff," her brother muttered.

"And—he's been very nice to me."

"All right, but nice or not, I want you to be careful what information you hand him. He may be harmless as a guppy, but he's not to know what goes on up at Titan."

"Yes, Daddy. I'm sorry. I just forgot for the moment that—"

"Well, after this you remember it every moment," her father said sternly. "The 'accident' up there today was only an accident insofar as I happened to stumble onto it in time."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that someone doesn't know the exact layout of the plant by accident. I mean that someone doesn't plant oil-soaked rags at vital centers by accident! If I hadn't happened to go back to the office to finish up some work this morning instead of taking the Sunday off to go fishing as I usually do, that fire would have gotten a beautiful start before anyone discovered it. And the resultant explosion would have wiped Titan completely off the map."

"But—now they'll be back too try again, won't they, Daddy?"

"Certainly." Guy winced as Stephanie turned the car sharply into their drive, stopped under the porte cochere. "But next time they'll be dealing with the F.B.I."

"Oh, I'm so glad you finally reported it. I wish you had long ago."

"So do I." Turning, he looked out across the harbor. "Beautiful spot, this. Always glad to get back to it."

Stephanie nodded, sharing his feeling. Then as she started up the steps, the sound of a lawn mower on the other side of the hedge brought her up short.

"Seems as if we have neighbors again," her father observed, answering her own thought.

Then she noticed that the rambling old mansion next door, deserted since the crash of '29 had ruined old Mr. Stone, had curtains at its wide windows again. And, as a dust cloth fluttered from an upstairs window, a little Japanese maid to fight the cobwebs. Two Japanese maids, she deduced a moment later as a second little brown face peeped from a window.

"Glad they are doing something about that garden," Guy Merrill approved as he stamped up the steps. "It'll take a couple of good Japanese gardeners to turn that wilderness into anything like what it was in Stone's day."

Too Many Gardeners
STEPHANIE saw the gardeners then. Pruning the flowering almond trees ruthlessly. Strange gardeners, those!

Old Tsang, anxious when he saw his beloved Mister Guy was injured, shook his head dolorously.

"Devil pretty busy today," he muttered.

Guy laughed around a grimace as Tsang helped him out of his coat. "The Devil certainly had something to do with my getting this infernal burn!"

Old Tsang didn't smile. "Devil give me Japanese gardeners right under my kitchen window. Big house next door now full of Japanese. That bad sign for good Chinaman."

Stephanie laughed. "Oh, Tsang. You and your signs. The gardeners won't bother you. And surely the new tenants aren't Japanese too?"

"No. White. But not much good. They make talk sounds like many pigs. Not good."

"Poor Tsang," Guy grinned, stretched out on the old sofa in the library. "Got your troubles, haven't you?"

But the old Chinaman would not be cheered. "Much troubles. My son's girl-child bring disgrace now."

"Not pretty little Frosted Willows?" Stephanie asked, remembering the little Chinese girl who had come sometimes to visit her grandfather.

Tsang nodded. "My son send her to the big school. That bad."

"The University? But why? She's a smart girl."

"Not smart. She make friends with Japanese boy." Old Tsang shook his head, scowling. "That very bad."

"But after all, if he's a nice Japanese boy," Stephanie suggested.

Tsang drew himself up proudly. "Wong Liu Tsong my granddaughter. She Chinese girl."

Guy sighed wearily, propped his injured arm against a cushion. "Poor old Tsang. The Devil has been at work today, all right."

Stephanie smiled too but somewhere in her mind that thought caught on a snag.

To be continued

TROOPS REMOVE FARMERS
A force of 300 mounted soldiers turned out to clear the Plaza de Armas at Santiago, Chile, of 500 carts when farmers staged a protest over a 150 per cent increase in the tariff on farm products brought into the city. The truck farmers, living in the neighborhood of the capital, surprised officials when they drove their cart loads of products into the Plaza, presenting a spectacle reminiscent of Chilean colonial days.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By JIMMY HATLO

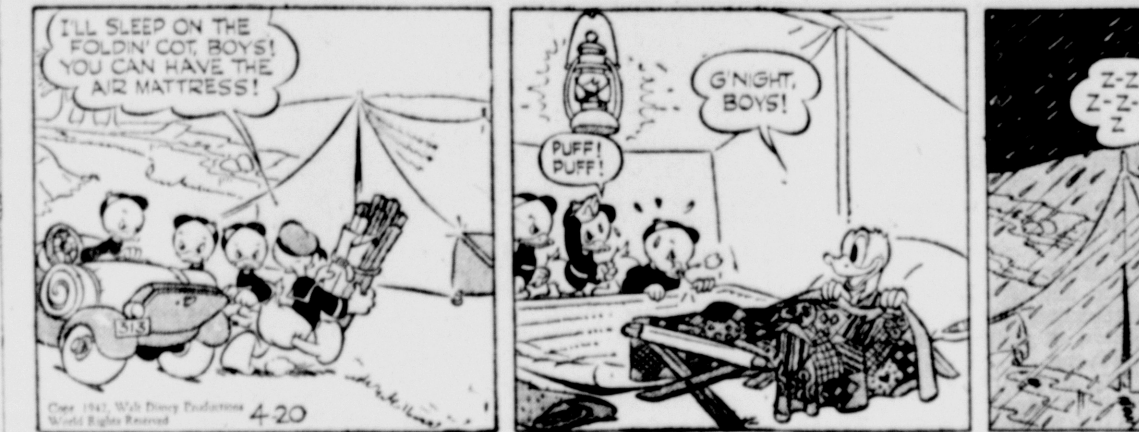

4-20

DONALD DUCK

"IT'S AN ILL WIND —"

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By WALT DISNEY

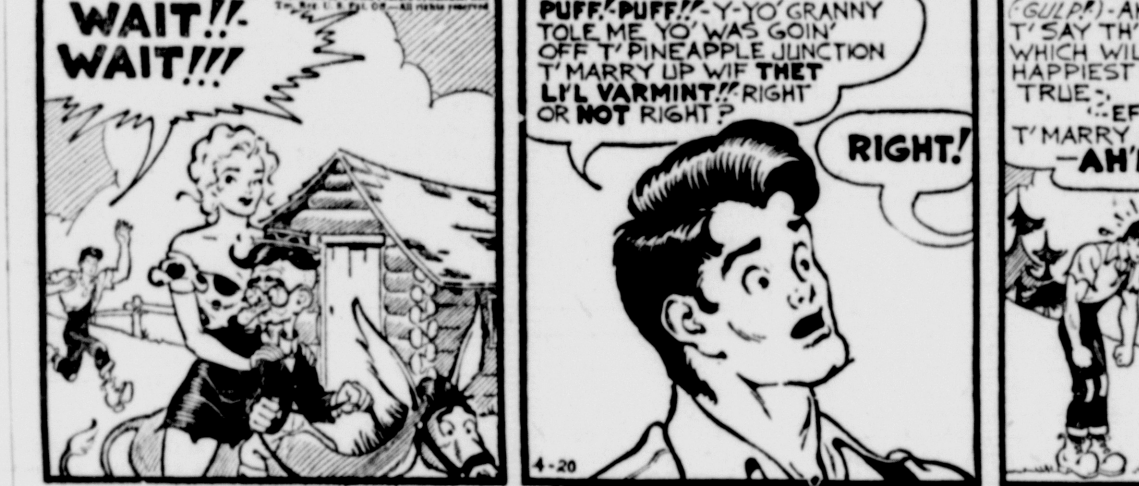

4-20

L'I' ABNER

A YOKUM SCORNER!!

By AL CAPP

4-20

BLONDIE

FIRESIDE CHAT-TEL!

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By CHIC YOUNG

4-20

THIMBLE THEATRE

"A GANDER AT MRS. GOOSE!"

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

STARRING POPEYE

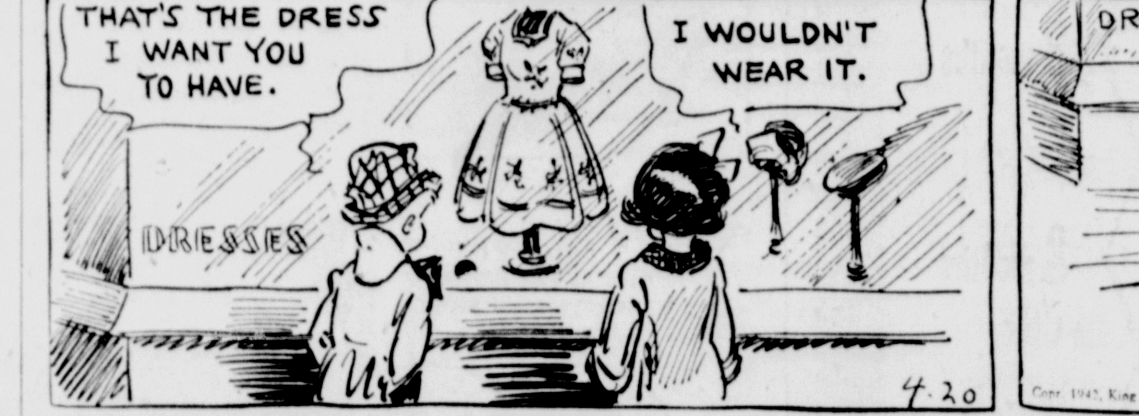

4-20

SKIPPY

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By PERCY CROSBY

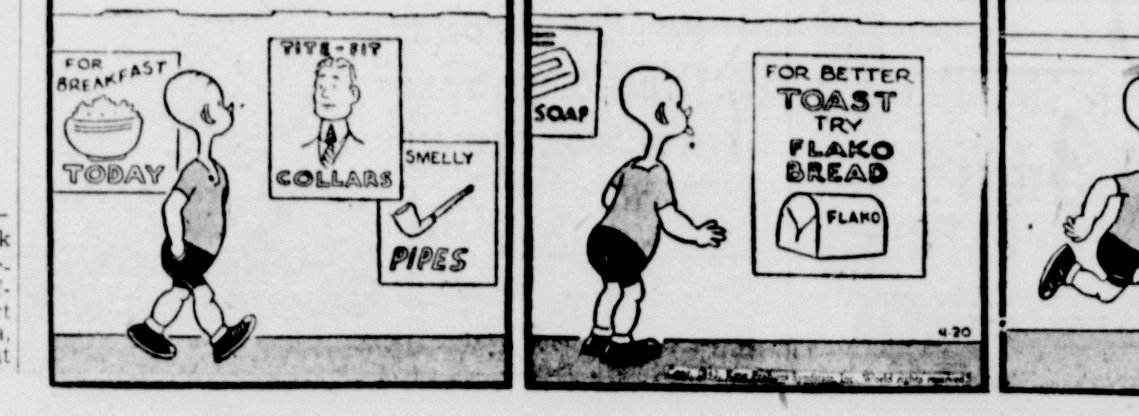

4-20

HENRY

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By CARL ANDERSON

4-20

GRIN AND BEAR IT.

By LICHY

4-20

GRIN AND BEAR IT.

By LICHY

South Africa is having difficulty in enforcing its gasoline restrictions.

KIDDIES DAIRYLAND

THIS PURE MILK paints the Road to Health. And tints your cheeks a rosy hue. Last sturdiness of royal health last yours, our wagon, brings to you.

Jones DAIRY
PHONES 1484-1213
21 SHUELDIT ST.

HOME LOANS

BUY, BUILD REPAIR

Let us explain our Budget Payment Plan to you. It makes home financing worry-free!

HOME-SEEKERS' SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION
20 Ferry St.

Have You A Hair Problem?
ARTISTIC BEAUTY SALON
Feather Cut by Michael
Upstairs - Over London's Youth Centre
Verona St. Phone early for appointment 3714 Michael M. Mattia Prop.

LOCAL BUS BULLETIN

Kingston bus terminal located as follows:
Trailways Bus Depot, 495 Broadway, opposite Central P. O.
Uptown Bus Terminal, Crown St., Central Bus Terminal, opposite West Side Railroad Station, Downtown Bus Terminal at Johnston's Drug Store, 34 East Strand.

Woodstock-Kingston Bus Corp.
Leaves Woodstock daily except Sunday: 7:45 a. m., 11:00 a. m., 2:30 p. m., 4:30 p. m. Sunday only: 10:00 a. m., 2:30 p. m.
Buses make connections with trains and busses to and from New York City at Kingston.

Leaves Kingston Central Terminal daily except Sunday: 9:00 a. m., 3:00 p. m. Daily: 12:35 p. m., 5:20 p. m. Sunday only: 11:05 a. m., 3:25 p. m. All trips will run to Willow with through passengers.
Buses will meet West Side train arriving at Kingston 3:43 p. m. Saturday only.

High Falls to Kingston
Eagle Bus Line, Inc.
Leaves High Falls for Kingston week days: 7:45 a. m., 10:45 a. m., 1:40 p. m., Saturday: 6:45 p. m. Sunday: 10:45 a. m.
Leaves Kingston Central Terminal week days: 9:45 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 3:15 p. m., 5:15 p. m. Sunday: 3:15 p. m.

Leaves Kingston Uptown Terminal week days: 10:00 a. m., 12:20 p. m., 3:30 p. m., 5:30 p. m. Saturday: 10:00 p. m.
School days only.

Pine Hill-Kingston Bus Corp.
Leaves Margaretville for Kingston daily except Sunday: 6:45 a. m., 9:30 a. m., and 3:30 p. m. Saturday: 7:45 a. m., 9:30 a. m., and 3:30 p. m. Sunday: 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m.
Bus leaving Margaretville at 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. connects with train and bus at Kingston for New York City.

Buses make connections with D. & N. train and Delhi bus at Margaretville.
Bus leaving Margaretville at 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. will run west side of reservoir Sundays.
Note—Bus leaving Cold Brook at 7:00 a. m. and the one leaving Margaretville at 6:45 a. m. will run one hour later Sunday and holidays.

Leaves Kingston Central Terminal daily except Sunday: 6:45 a. m., 12:35 p. m., 3:30 p. m., and 5:35 p. m. Sunday: 12:35 p. m. and 3:30 p. m.
Bus leaving Kingston at 3:30 p. m. runs west side of reservoir to West Shore and Cold Brook.
Leaves Kingston Uptown Terminal daily except Sunday: 6:50 a. m. and 12:45 p. m. and 3:45 p. m. Sundays: 12:45 p. m. and 4:00 p. m.

Bus leaving Kingston at 12:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. Sundays will run west side with through passengers.
*Trips marked like this connect with bus at Margaretville and bus for Delhi.
Half-fare rate on round trips from all points to Kingston in effect Saturday only beginning October 4th.

ABROW New Paltz
Schedule Subject to Change Without Notice
School Days
Van Gorp Bros. Props.

NEW PALTZ-POUGHKEEPSIE BUS LINE
Schedule subject to change without notice
School Days
Leaves New Paltz for Kingston daily except Sunday: 7:00 a. m., 12:10 p. m., 3:00 p. m., 5:55 p. m. Sunday: 7:00 a. m., 12:10 p. m., 3:00 p. m., 5:55 p. m.

Leaves Kingston
Crown St. Terminal: 7:00 a. m., 12:10 p. m., 3:00 p. m., 5:55 p. m. Sunday: 7:00 a. m., 12:10 p. m., 3:00 p. m., 5:55 p. m.
Buses do not run uptown on Sundays.
For information call New Paltz 3321—Poughkeepsie 440.

Japs Give New Angle on Attacks

(Continued from Page One)

Hirohito, and then summoned the home and railways ministers, officials who deal with construction and transport.

One broadcast recorded by CBS said that one of the raiders was forced to land in mountainous central Japan because of engine trouble, that its crew of five had been captured and were under close examination.

Italians Version

Still another version was offered in the Italian press: The newspaper La Gazzetta Del Popolo expressed belief that the raiders started from bases in Soviet Russia secretly ceded to the United States.

That, of course, would be no solace to Japan.

Neither was there comfort for Japan in the United States' unbroken silence on the attacks, still concealing their origin, and her jittery week-end indicated how insecure she felt about the possibility of a return visit to her capital and great ports and industrial centers.

Twice yesterday air raid alarms put central Japan, including imperial Tokyo itself, on the alert, each time for about two hours—once in darkness starting at 2 a. m. and again in daylight at 1 p. m.

These may have been precautions against hostile planes, real or imagined, or merely rehearsals.

The radio listener of the London Daily Mail quoted a Tokyo broadcast announcing that air observers who failed to give timely warning of Saturday's unwelcome visitors would be court-martialed.

Berlin, whence has come reports of destruction in Japan on wider scale than was acknowledged at first, gave conflicting versions of yesterday's alarms. One broadcast said no enemy planes were sighted but another said reconnaissance planes and fighters crossed over Tokyo without dropping bombs.

Berlin Gives Hint

"The Japanese government," said the Berlin radio yesterday, "has provided funds for the rebuilding of the factories and dwelling houses and one cinema which were burned down in the Tokyo area."

This, from one of Japan's own Axis partners, was the first acknowledgment of any industrial damage in the heart of the enemy's war effort—Tokyo, the capital, Yokohama and Kobe, two chief ports, and Nagoya, big center of aircraft production.

Nevertheless, despite official Japanese assertions that the attack failed and left Japan's war plant intact, Tokyo's own broadcasts hinted at extensive damage.

Domei, official Japanese news agency, broadcast a report from Tokyo that a meeting of vice ministers discussed the raid damage today along with measures to control "baseless rumors" concerning the air attack.

Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo was disclosed to have seen Emperor Hirohito Saturday night after an inspection tour north of Tokyo and to have conferred with Home Minister Michio Yusa and Railways Minister Yoshiaki Natta, department which would deal with any housing or communications problems.

A broadcast by the Japanese-controlled Saigon radio, heard in the United States by CBS, said most of the missiles were 12-pound incendiary bombs.

Contrasted to Japan's shock to discover that despite the long distances over the Pacific she is not immune to air assault, the Saturday raids caused sudden jubilation among the United Nations.

In Chungking, jubilant Chinese predicted that Japan would be compelled to tie up much of her air power for home defense at the expense of her far-stretched fighting fronts.

In London, editorial writers tied up the air attack on Japan with the A. F.'s resurgent offensive against Germany as a forerunner of terrific aerial punishment for the Axis.

Now, said the London Times, the Japanese know "the kind of destruction their war lords have wantonly inflicted on other nations."

"The remarkable fact is that Japan has been bombed at all."

Hitler Attempts New Air Blitz

(Continued from Page One)

planes without loss in the southern sector.

The Germans said that "local" Russian attacks collapsed in the central and northern sectors and that in Karelia Germans and Finns exacted heavy Russian losses "in dense battles."

A German submarine was credited with shelling and setting fire to oil tanks at Bullen Bay, Curacao, but the official Dutch report from that Caribbean island was that all the shells missed.

The attack was made at 3 a. m. Sunday. Bullen Bay is within 750 miles of the Panama Canal.

In the Arctic, Hitler headquarters said two "enemy ships" totaling 12,000 tons were sunk out of convoy by U-boat action in cooperation with the air force, and three others were damaged, apart from hits among the escorting warships.

In the Mediterranean, a German warship said to have torpedoed a merchantman at Beirut, Lebanon, while another shelled the electrical works at Jaffa, Palestine.

The Italian high command reported loss of the 1036-ton submarine Michele Bianchi.

On the Libyan front there was only sporadic patrol fighting. The Khamsen, five-day-long sand-laden wind from the desert, hampered operations. There were the usual air attacks on Malta.

Examinations Slated

Kingston's civil service board on Thursday, April 30, will hold civil service examinations to make up eligible lists from which a motor equipment operator, a junior stock clerk, and an engineering aide-Grade 1 may be appointed. Applications may be obtained at the office of the board on the third floor of the city hall today and Tuesday evening, between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock. Applications must be filled and filed with the board on or before Friday evening, April 24.

Moves Business

The Esposito Shoe Repair Shop has removed from 488 Broadway to 462 Broadway.

White Star Line
Leaves Kingston, Crown St. Terminal (Uptown) daily except Sundays: 12 noon, 3:45 p. m., 5:40 p. m. Daily: 2:20 p. m., 5 p. m.

Leaves Kingston Central Terminal daily except Sunday: 8 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 3:30 p. m., 5:30 p. m. Daily: 2:30 p. m., 5:10 p. m. Sunday only: 11:10 a. m.

Leaves Kingston Uptown Terminal daily except Sunday: 8 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 3:30 p. m., 5:30 p. m. Daily: 2:30 p. m., 5:10 p. m. Sunday only: 11:10 a. m.

Leaves Kingston Uptown Terminal daily except Sunday: 8 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 3:30 p. m., 5:30 p. m. Daily: 2:30 p. m., 5:10 p. m. Sunday only: 11:10 a. m.

Leaves Kingston Uptown Terminal daily except Sunday: 8 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 3:30 p. m., 5:30 p. m. Daily: 2:30 p. m., 5:10 p. m. Sunday only: 11:10 a. m.

Actions of French Insurgents Bode No Good for Laval

(Continued from Page One)

This is the French distrust of the acrobatic Laval on his flying political trapeze. It is questionable how far he can go in delivering the goods to Hitler without causing a public upheaval, of which there have been numerous violent signs recently. An attempt to hand the French navy or colonies over to Germany might be expected to draw fire under any circumstances.

It is easy to believe that Laval has promised Hitler the moon with trimmings, but the Frenchman's old skill would have forsaken him if he rushed into an outright break with the United States, or tried to use the big stick on his people. His tendency in past has been to use sugar rather than vinegar to catch his flies.

Moment Awaited by Allies

In any event, the moment Laval throws down the gauntlet to the United States and other allies, that automatically releases them from any further kid-glove handling of the French government. They will feel free to protect themselves where necessary by seizure of French territory or warships.

The question will then arise whether the French people on the whole will regard such action sympathetically as calculated to be in their own interest. Well-informed Frenchmen tell me that while use of force by Britain might anger the French, who don't like "perfidious alibion," similar action by the United States might well meet with approval.

On the whole one would expect Laval to encounter serious difficulties in carrying out any great coup for his master. And trouble might come not only from the French people—including soldiers and sailors—but from Marshal Petain and his heir apparent, Admiral Darlan.

Darlan holds the navy in his hand—or has thus far—and he doesn't like Laval. That navy is Darlan's ace in the whole to keep himself and Petain in the running, and it will take a lot of doing to make the admiral surrender.

Local K. of C. to Confer Second Degree on Group

Tonight at 8:30 o'clock the local Knights of Columbus Council will exemplify the honors of the second degree to the following members: John B. Whitaker, John H. McManus, Jr., Anthony Zoda, Sala Zoda, Robert G. Enright, Joseph A. Wenzel, Edward J. Noonan, William F. Cannon, Anthony P. Hines, Stanley J. Petro, James V. Geary, Joseph J. Magnino, Sr., Kenneth J. Geary, Joseph F. Scamman, Pasquale Belsito, Daniel Belsito, Dr. John A. Olivet, Daniel E. Van Wageningen.

This will be one of the largest classes to receive the second degree in the history of the local Knights of Columbus Council, and it is the hope of all the officers that many of the K. of C. members will be present at the meeting to witness the exemplification of this degree.

Lecturer Andrew T. Gilday has arranged an appropriate program of entertainment to follow the meeting featuring an interesting and instructive sound film.

Police Vacations Start

Sunday the annual vacation period of the members of the Kingston police department started. Officers Joseph P. Fallon and William Krum are the first two policemen to start the annual two-weeks' vacation. During the summer vacation period Walter F. McDonough, Lester E. Locke and Archibald Van Aken will serve as special officers while the regular officers are off. Officer McDonough, who has been serving as a special bank officer, assumed his new duties today. In his place as bank officer has been appointed Raymond Prusakowski of 44 Third avenue, who assumed his duties this morning.

Still Time for Donations

Members of St. John's parish, who are interested each year in the United Thank Offering, are asked to remember that there is still time to share in this great offering. Contributions may be sent to the custodian of the United Thank Offering, Mrs. Henry Leininger, 314 Lucas avenue. The United Thank Offering is used for the aid of hospitals and missionaries in the field. Last year contributions from all parishes for this cause netted a total of $22,419.10.

Truck and Car Collide

A tractor-trailer owned by Joseph Chuckrow's Son, Inc., Albany, and driven by Benjamin F. Morris of 69 Madison avenue, Albany, and a car driven by Fred D. Church of 37 Furnace street, Kingston, collided on route 9-W, near the intersection with the Boice road, about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Deputies DeWitt, Vredenburg and Belmonte answered the call to the sheriff's office. They reported damage to both vehicles light.

He Never Spoke

Temple City, Calif. (AP)—For 134 years Santiago Suviate got through life with sign language. Born deaf and early kidnapped by Indians, Suviate simply "never learned to talk," associates explained.

I make pretty good coffee

even if I do say "myself." But here's the deal: I haven't had much sleep. Why not tell me through the Want Ads. Then I'll make something to perk about.

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Taft Proposes Top On Raw Materials

(Continued from Page One)

Washington, April 20 (AP)—Asserting that food and other prices have been "rising too rapidly," Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today that the "time has come to fix price ceilings on all raw materials, including basic agricultural prices."

Taft, who cooperated with Price Administrator Leon Henderson and Democratic congressional leaders in drafting the present wartime price control act, said in an interview that "instead of fixing retail prices controls should be applied on raw materials, because most farm products now are at levels that would permit this."

Roosevelt to Send Congress Message About Inflation

(Continued from Page One)

prices and expanding purchasing power.

President Roosevelt called Senator Connally (D., Tex.) to the White House today for a conference expected to result in agreement by Connally to delay for a week his effort to bring a labor bill before the senate.

Connally, whose consent would be necessary to postpone action on a motion to take up a bill authorizing the government to seize strike-bound industrial plants, told reporters he would insist on assurances that the President planned early action.

Meanwhile, union leaders were conducting a vigorous fight against inclusion of wage controls in the program.

Presidential advisers were known to have been working on a plan for the general freezing of prices and payments for services, the latter including not only workers' wages but salaries and bonuses of executives as well. Also to be included, it was said, would be a formula for the limitation of war profits.

Repeats Assault And Goes to Jail

August Gavin, 35, Pine Hill, Gets 30 Days

August Gavin, 35, of Pine Hill, who was given a suspension of a 30-day sentence for third degree assault, when arraigned before Justice Flavius Dibble on Friday, after it had been charged that he knocked down Mrs. Jennie C. Hackett, 62, was again arrested Saturday on a similar charge. Brought before Justice Dibble by Troopers Dunn and Maish, the justice revoked the previous suspension and Gavin was brought to the Ulster county jail Saturday night to serve the 30 days' sentence.

The troopers arrested Gavin on the first occasion when Mrs. Hackett charged that he and two other men who had been drinking tried to get into the house and when she refused to admit them Gavin struck her with his fist and knocked her down.

Saturday night Mrs. Hackett told the troopers that Gavin had again struck her and his arrest followed. It is understood that when he completes serving the present sentence he will have to face a second assault charge.

Held for Petit Larceny

James Storey, 47, of 2857 Valentine avenue, New York, was arrested in New York and arraigned by State Police before Justice Melvin D. Schoonmaker at Ellenville on Saturday, charged with petit larceny. Storey, who is an electrician, was brought to the county jail but later furnished bail and was released.

How to Hold FALSE TEETH

More Firmly in Place
Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEREIN on your partials. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEREIN today at any drug store.—Adv.

Truck and Car Collide

A tractor-trailer owned by Joseph Chuckrow's Son, Inc., Albany, and driven by Benjamin F. Morris of 69 Madison avenue, Albany, and a car driven by Fred D. Church of 37 Furnace street, Kingston, collided on route 9-W, near the intersection with the Boice road, about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Deputies DeWitt, Vredenburg and Belmonte answered the call to the sheriff's office. They reported damage to both vehicles light.

He Never Spoke

Temple City, Calif. (AP)—For 134 years Santiago Suviate got through life with sign language. Born deaf and early kidnapped by Indians, Suviate simply "never learned to talk," associates explained.

I make pretty good coffee

even if I do say "myself." But here's the deal: I haven't had much sleep. Why not tell me through the Want Ads. Then I'll make something to perk about.

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Extension Minute Men Unit Formed For Area Farmers

(Continued from Page One)

The Extension Minute Man organization in Ulster county was launched last Saturday. Through this set-up virtually every farm in the county can be reached on short notice through a corps of men and women volunteers.

Saturday was picked for the launching because of its historical significance; it marked the 67th anniversary of the famous ride of Paul Revere in revolutionary days. The modern counterpart is the Extension Minute Man, whose job it is to reach every farm family quickly in an emergency, to give important information, or to collect facts.

The co-ordinating body in the county is the extension war time council, made up of the directors of the Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association. When the organization is completed there will be over 250 extension minutemen and a chairman of minutemen in each township.

C. C. DuMont, president of the association, is county chairman of minutemen and Albert Kurdi, county agricultural agent, has been asked to serve as executive secretary.

Among the duties of this volunteer corps will be not only to carry information to all neighborhoods of the county, such as the latest facts on farm priorities and shortages of farm materials, but also to help counteract rumors, to make surveys if necessary, and to be on the alert in the nation's war as it affects the farm and home. Special emphasis will be placed on the necessity of maintaining the production of foodstuffs in the face of a labor shortage and less machinery.

One of the first big jobs is to try to clarify some of the regulations, now generally misunderstood, in regard to priorities. It may affect, for example, some of the spraying methods common in the state. Farmers will be advised of the situation, to help them plan accordingly. Other work of the Extension Minute Men will be to support such important programs as salvage collection, victory gardens, farm labor, nutrition and war savings bonds.

Two Cars Come Together But Occupants Are Unhurt

Cars driven by Louis J. Dimitroff of 790 Riverside Drive, New York City, manager of the Brooklyn office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and Joseph Ryan, milk inspector of 62 West Main street, Cobleskill, were damaged when they collided on the 9-W By-Pass about 3:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The front end and entire left side of the Ryan car, which was being driven south, was badly damaged. The left side of the other car was also damaged.

Dimitroff, was accompanied by his brother-in-law, William A. Rusuli, also of 709 Riverside Drive, the two being on their way to their summer home near Saugerties. They told Deputies Segelken and DeWitt that they were in conversation and did not notice that the car was pulling to the left and in the path of the approaching car driven by Ryan. The latter pulled over to the guard rail on his side, but could not avoid the collision, according to the report. No personal injuries were reported.

Held for Petit Larceny

James Storey, 47, of 2857 Valentine avenue, New York, was arrested in New York and arraigned by State Police before Justice Melvin D. Schoonmaker at Ellenville on Saturday, charged with petit larceny. Storey, who is an electrician, was brought to the county jail but later furnished bail and was released.

How to Hold FALSE TEETH

More Firmly in Place
Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEREIN on your partials. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEREIN today at any drug store.—Adv.

Truck and Car Collide

A tractor-trailer owned by Joseph Chuckrow's Son, Inc., Albany, and driven by Benjamin F. Morris of 69 Madison avenue, Albany, and a car driven by Fred D. Church of 37 Furnace street, Kingston, collided on route 9-W, near the intersection with the Boice road, about 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Deputies DeWitt, Vredenburg and Belmonte answered the call to the sheriff's office. They reported damage to both vehicles light.

He Never Spoke

Temple City, Calif. (AP)—For 134 years Santiago Suviate got through life with sign language. Born deaf and early kidnapped by Indians, Suviate simply "never learned to talk," associates explained.

I make pretty good coffee

even if I do say "myself." But here's the deal: I haven't had much sleep. Why not tell me through the Want Ads. Then I'll make something to perk about.

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

Want Ad Week

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

SOCIETIES • CLUBS • PERSONALS

Dance and Music Recital Is Given

A recital of songs, piano selections and dances was presented by the pupils of Emilia Riccobono Weyhe at her home on Hurley avenue, Saturday afternoon. The dance numbers were given in costume, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Weyhe.

Miss Marilyn Foster and Miss Beth Sherman, guests, also played several piano selections. Miss Sherman played "Theme from Tchaikovsky's Concerto No. 1" and "Twinkle Toes" by E. Schostakovich. Miss Foster played Franz Schubert's "By the Sea." For piano duets they offered, "Invitation to the Dance" by Weber and "Melody in F" by Rubinstein. The Misses Shirley and Sylvia Hughes also added to the entertainment with several songs.

The formal program was as follows:

Musical selections:
Piano solo...Miss Elsie L. Maltz
A Dolly's Bedtime Song...
R. Hillard
High Ho, Away We Go...
Theodore Gershwin
Airy Fairies...George Spalding
On Parade...Miss Helen McGregor
Piano duet—A Twilight Song...
Matthews

The Misses Lois K. Gray and Louise Suarez

Piano solo—Radzki March...
Strauss

Miss Julia Verigan

Piano solo—First Star...Richter

Miss Louise Suarez

Selections played by Miss Lois Gray—

March...Arthur Tomlinson

Harp Serenade...Wagner

The Skating Party...Wagner

On Parade...Wagner

Dance numbers:

Exhibition Waltz—The Misses

Evamae Gildersleeve and Virginia Brower

Coppelia Valse (toe dance)—Miss

Julia Verigan

Dances of Three Modes—Miss Elsie

Maltz

Intermezzo—Miss Julia Verigan

Fibber McGee and Molly, little girl—The Misses Evamae Gildersleeve, Virginia Brower and Julia Verigan

La Conga Original—The Misses

Evamae Gildersleeve and Virginia Brower

Tap Solo—Miss Julia Verigan

Tap duet—A Gob and His Gal—

The Misses Evamae Gildersleeve and Virginia Brower

Anniversary Banquet Is Held

By Y. M. C. A. Couples Club

After dinner a business session was conducted by the retiring president, Mr. Schutt. At this time the state of new officers was presented by Charles Snyder, president;

Mrs. George Dingee, vice president;

Mrs. Edward C. DeWitt, secretary; and John Pope, treasurer.

Following the meeting, Mr. Pope conducted a program of interesting games and at the close of which

Mr. and Mrs. Schutt were declared having won high honors for the evening. The couples presented them with sterling silver candle sticks. The best of wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Schutt for success in their new surroundings.

Bonnell-Feaster

Ellenville, April 20—Miss Josephine

Feaster of Kerhonkson and Clark

Bonnell were married Easter

Sunday at the Methodist Church in

Fishkill, the Rev. Hugh McNally officiating. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Culp, uncle and aunt of the bride. A wedding supper was served at the Sea Food

House, Albany Post Road. Mr.

Bonnell left Wednesday morning with the Kerhonkson draft contingent.

Participants Listed In Red Cross Concert

A gala concert and musical treat is being staged by W. Whiting Fredenburgh for the benefit of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross, Monday May 18 at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium of the Kingston High School.

Among the participants will be Dr. Elmer A. Tidmarsh and 40 members of the Kingston Mendelssohn Club. The Kingston Oratorio Society under the baton of George Fowler of Poughkeepsie. Kingston High School Orchestra and Kingston High School "A Cappella" Choir both directed by Leonard H. Stine. The Musical Society hopes to present Dr. Charles Gilbert Spores favorite musician of the Hudson Valley, Vladimir Padwa, famous concert pianist and summer resident of Woodstock, will be heard in solo presentations as well as in instrumental trio numbers with Mrs. Daniel Smiley, Jr., violinist and Dr. Hans Cohn cellist.

The committee in charge of arrangements in addition to Mr. Fredenburgh consists of the Hon. Charles Walton, chairman of Ulster Red Cross, Mrs. Charles Tappan, Miss Ruth Tongue, Mrs. Mortimer Downer, Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, Leonard Stine, Vernon Miller, Allan L. Hanstein and Joseph Craig.

Kenneth A. Saunders Weds

Evelyn Klein at Bridgeport

Steaday, April 18, at 11 a. m., the wedding of Miss Evelyn Mary Klein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.

Joseph Klein of Bridgeport, Conn.,

to Kenneth A. Saunders, of Bridgeport, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Saunders of 55 Harwich street, this city, took place.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Lane at the Rectory of St. Patrick's Church in Bridgeport.

The bride wore a Copenhagen blue suit with navy blue accessories and an orchid corsage. Miss

Joan Herbert of Bridgeport as maid of honor wore a tangerine suit with navy blue accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Charles

Hosking of Milford, Conn., was best man for the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Bas-sick High School, Bridgeport, and of the Felt and Tarrant Comptometer School. Mr. Saunders is a graduate of Kingston High School and is an underground draftsman of the United Illuminating Co.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at Elch-ner's Restaurant and a reception was held at 3 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs.

Saunders will reside at 397 Fairview avenue.

Katzman-Curry

Ellenville, April 20—Miss Roberta Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Curry of South Hill and

Private Raymond Katzman of

Camp Blanding, Fla., were married at the Methodist parsonage in Grahamville, Saturday evening,

April 11, at 7 o'clock, by the Rev.

Herman Diekmann. They were attended by the bride's parents, Mr.

and Mrs. Guy Curry.

The bride wore a navy blue ensemble and her mother was dressed in pink. Private Katzman returned to camp on Wednesday and his bride will remain at the home of her parents for a time.

The couple were given a skimmington at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ackley Monday evening.

Farewell Party Given

Friday evening, a farewell party was given by the employees of the

Kingston Coal Co. in honor of their co-worker, Miss Olive Gray.

Following the dinner Miss Gray was presented with a gift from the group. Those who attended were the Misses Elaine Hammond, Rita

Leach, Eula Barley, Helen Ken-neddy, Mary Balestrieri, Posy Tom-shaw, Evelyn Kirchner, and Fred

Leifheit, Eugene MacConnell,

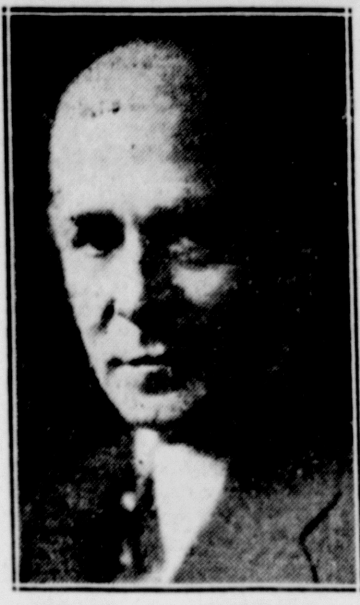

Charles Ryder, Harry Rigby, Jr.,

and Fred Weber.

Adjudicators for Music Competition Festival

GEORGE CHRISTOPHER

DR. V. L. F. REBMANN

FRANCIS DIERS

WALTER FINLAYSON

JAMES GARFIELD

Personal Notes

William Mulligan, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Joseph Mulligan, celebrated his 11th birthday, Thursday, April 16, at a party with his sister, Patricia, cousin, Jack

Brown and grandmother, Mrs. R.

Schick.

Miss Cecilia Netter, who is assigned to cadet teaching at Ardley-on-the-Hudson, spent the week-end at her home on West

Chestnut street.

The Emblem of Honor Association has awarded a Four-Star

Emblem of Honor Pin to Mrs.

J. Hallenbeck, Phoenicia, in recognition of the services of her four sons with the armed forces of the United States. They are

Pvt. John Lewis Hallenbeck, Pvt.

Edward William Hallenbeck, Albert Paul Hallenbeck, private first class, and Pvt. Thomas Jerome

Hallenbeck.

Miss Betty F. Hasbrouck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Hasbrouck of Stone Ridge and John

L. Fallon, son of Mr. and Mrs.

John L. Fallon of Albany avenue, were two of the 110 students in the department of physical education and athletics at Syracuse

University who will participate in a one-day physical fitness conference and public exhibition of gymnastics, Saturday, April 25.

Privates Richard and Charles

Smith have returned to Fort Dix,

N. J., after spending a few days with their mother, Mrs. Arthur

Kain of 416 1/2 Hasbrouck avenue.

Carl Lavsa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lavsa of Port Ewen has been called to active duty with the United States Naval Reserve.

He will report Thursday.

Miss Mary McCausland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mccausland of 86 Crane street, left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where she has accepted a position.

Miss Virginia Dodaro of Green street has also accepted a position in Washington, D. C., and will report for work, Wednesday.

Pvt. James T. Little of West

Point spent the week-end at his home, 32 Hurley avenue.

Celebrate 15th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. McGinnis of 116 Franklin street celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary, Friday night. Friends and relatives gathered to spend a pleasant evening. Robert Thompson showed moving pictures and at a late hour refreshments were served.

The host and hostess received many presents. Those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams and son, Miss Rose Ramming, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lasher,

Mr. and Mrs. John Dohnken, Mr.

Adeline McGinnis and Charles Mc-

Ginnis, Jr. Gifts were sent by Miss

Florence Balzer, and Mr. and Mrs.

Eugene Hung.

Wolf-Hanlon

Mrs. W. T. Norwood of Ogdens-burg announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Doris Hanlon to Edward E. Wolf, son of Mrs.

Bertha Wolf of 353 Broadway.

The marriage was solemnized in the Congregational Church in Ogdensburg, Saturday, March 28, with the Rev. W. H. Seyfert officiating. They were attended by Mr.

and Mrs. Edward LeBeau of Ogdensburg.

The bride is a graduate of Oneonta High School and of Albany

Business College. Mr. Wolf attended school in Kingston and is employed by the Ulster Fuel Co.

ESPOSITO SHOE REPAIR

HAS MOVED

and is now located at

462 BROADWAY

Opp. Municipal Auditorium

Our larger quarters and better equipment enables us to serve you more efficiently.

Former Location 488 B'way.

Conference Is Held For Tri-Hi Girls

The spring conference for this region of the Tri-Hi groups from the Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserves was held in Kingston, Saturday. Delegates coming from as far as Cohoes and Schenectady numbered 102.

In building for tomorrow which is the general theme the girls chose to speak of various bridges of the present which would be used to cross into the future. Three of these topics considered at the conference were "Defense Job or College," "Understanding Ourselves" and "Thinking in War Time."

Reports of the three discussion groups were summarized in the afternoon session. Listing some of the defense jobs which young women may do the girls found that some require more technical training than others. On the list were such suggestions as Red Cross work, hostesses, laboratory work, general factory work, aircraft, therapy, government office work, and social work.

For training of women the government in New York state has centers at Buffalo, Rochester and on Long Island. Instruction is important along scientific lines such as meteorologists, drafting and blue prints, and aeronautics. It was also brought

Official Says Two U. S. Firms in Deal On Glass Formula

Washington, April 20 (AP)—A Department of Justice official said today that two American firms participated with German and English firms in a pre-war international cartel which, he said, had resulted in rigid restrictions on production of a plastic glass widely used in military aircraft.

Walter R. Hutchinson, special assistant to the attorney general, named the companies at a Senate patent committee hearing as Rohm and Haas Co., Inc., of Philadelphia; Rohm and Haas, A. G., of Darmstadt, Germany; I. G. Farbenindustrie of Germany; Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., of London, and E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co., Inc.

These firms, he testified made inter-related agreements prior to the war covering methyl-methacrylate, a glass substitute used for cockpit enclosures, transparent bomber noses, gun turrets, landing light covers and windshields on military aircraft.

Hutchinson said the British government actually paid royalties to German firms after the two countries were at war. This happened, he explained, because of British purchases in the United States which necessitated use of materials on which German plants held exclusive patents.

"It's interesting to know that British money was going to German firms," commented Bone. Hutchinson, questioned by Senator Lucas (D-Ill.), said there was no "documentary evidence" that the British government realized its funds were going to Germany.

"The chances are Hitler knew it," Lucas declared. "Here are instances of individuals of one country dealing with individuals of another, and their own governments don't know of their activities, but the German government under Hitler knew of it."

Lucas later added that "what the German government was able to learn, the United States was unable to find out."

Many international patent agreements, Hutchinson testified, concerned "secret" military equipment.

Ulster's Health Group to Organize Under New Name

The organization meeting for the new "Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association," which, following action taken in January, succeeds the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the court room at the court house.

The meeting was scheduled to be held in the assembly room at the county building, but Miss Katherine M. Murphy, secretary, said that there had been such fine response to invitations to attend the meeting that it had been found necessary to hold the meeting at the court house.

At the meeting Tuesday night representatives of civic organizations throughout the county will be asked to name a board of directors for the new association and new officers will be elected. Former Judge Joseph M. Fowler will preside at the meeting.

Robert Osborn, formerly executive secretary of the Buffalo Tu-

Diver Searches For Car in River

New York Police Seeks Knowledge About Missing Officer

New York, April 20 (AP)—A deep-sea diver searched the murky depths of the East river today while the police department was in the strange position of anxiously awaiting his findings yet hoping he wouldn't locate his object.

For while the diver's success would allow them to close their eyes at a spot of the mysterious disappearance of Detective Sergeant Patrick J. Walsh nearly three years ago, it would mean their missing member was dead—slain in pursuit of his duty.

The diver was searching for an automobile which may be the coffin of Sergeant Walsh.

Although the sergeant, a member of the police undercover squad, disappeared September 4, 1939, and Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine reluctantly announced last June 8 that he had been dropped from the department, it was learned last night that the case had been reopened.

The order to an emergency squad to stand by while a civilian diver descended into the East river, which flows into the Hudson, was given by the Missing Persons Bureau on a tip from a Sing Sing convict.

All official comment on the order was withheld, but it was learned that the unidentified prisoner had told Acting Captain Walter Kiernan of the Missing Persons Bureau that Walsh had been murdered and dumped into the river by a mob including one of the late "Mad Dog" Esposito brothers.

These sources said that one of the Espositos—both of whom were executed last month for killing a policeman and a civilian during a Fifth avenue holdup—and Carlo Barone, sentenced to death in the electric chair for another slaying and now awaiting a decision on his appeal, both were members of the gang of whom the convict spoke.

Walsh, a policeman since 1913 and holder of a splendid record, was 49 when he disappeared, and while he was said to have been ill and depressed following overstudy for advancement, the police department has never been satisfied that his absence was voluntary.

First Reformed Men's Club

The Men's Club of the First Reformed Church met Friday evening in the church house and enjoyed a most enjoyable and illuminating talk on hobbies by the Rev. O. L. Schreiber, Ph. D., pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. It was disclosed during the meeting that nearly every one had some hobby and that such made a substantial contribution toward the pleasure and progress of life. The next meeting will be held Friday evening, May 15, and will be ladies' night.

berculosis Association, now assistant executive secretary of the New York State Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health, will be present at the meeting and give a talk on "Tuberculosis and War."

The change in the organization was made at the January meeting of the Ulster County Committee, when it was decided to remove the former limit of 25 executive members and reorganize as a Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Financial and Commercial

One Is Injured; Two Are Arrested After Altercation

One negro is being held for grand jury action on a second degree assault charge; the negro is accused of injuring, is a patient in the Kingston Hospital, and her brother was fined $5 on a public intoxication charge, as the result of a visit by the police at the family home, 300 East Strand Sunday afternoon in response to a telephone call received at police headquarters.

It was 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon when the telephone rang in police headquarters and a man's voice was heard urging that the police be sent and also an ambulance.

Officers Wesley Cramer and Gerald Avery in one of the police radio cars picked up the call over the air and drove to the house.

There they found Mrs. Henrietta Gilmore Coleman, 55, bleeding from a wound in the head. Her brother, Warren Gilmore, 62, and Charles Edwards, 57, live in the same house.

The woman was removed to the hospital in the Conner ambulance which was called by the police for treatment for her head injury and also shoulder injuries.

According to the police the trio had engaged in a wordy argument which led to the charge of second degree assault being lodged against Edwards, and a public intoxication charge against Gilmore.

Edwards is accused of hitting the woman over the head with a stick of kindling wood.

Other Police Cases
Thomas Moran, 73, who said he had no home, was arraigned before Judge Matthew V. Cahill on a charge of public intoxication. He was given a suspended sentence, provided he was outside Kingston within an hour.

Martin Noble, Jr., of 92 Third avenue, and David Davis of 41 Cedar street, both charged with failing to observe full-stop signs, forfeited bail they had posted when they failed to appear in court today to answer to the charge.

Marshall, Hopkins Bring Reports on Their Conferences

Washington, April 20 (AP)—General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Harry L. Hopkins, lend-lease adviser, brought directly to President Roosevelt today a report on their war conferences in Great Britain.

The two officials, who returned from London yesterday, were luncheon guests of the chief executive, Secretary of State Hull, who has just returned to Washington after several weeks in Florida, and John G. Winant, ambassador to England, also were invited to the luncheon conference.

General Marshall and Hopkins, American chairmen of the British-American munitions assignment board, spent two weeks on the British Isles in conference with high-ranking United Nations officials, including Prime Minister Churchill of England.

The exact purpose of their trip was a military secret, but just before leaving for the United States, General Marshall told a press conference that "the time for action is near."

His statement followed an inspection of the second A.E.F. in northern Ireland.

American forces in Great Britain, he said, will "inevitably join the commandos," famed British hit-run raiders and moreover, he added, the U. S. air force will establish units "all over the British Isles."

Four unidentified persons, described only as three high ranking British naval officers and a British civilian, accompanied the general and Hopkins on the return flight across the Atlantic.

The Joiners

News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations

Auxiliary 53 of Tappan Camp No. 1, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War will meet Tuesday night in Mechanics' Hall on Henry street.

Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M. will hold a stated communication Tuesday evening, April 21 at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Temple. The Entered Apprentice Degree will be conferred. A good attendance is desired.

NEW YORK CURB EXCHANGE

QUOTATIONS AT 2 O'CLOCK

Aluminum Corp. of America	30
Aluminum Limited	13 1/4
American Cynamid B	30
American Gas & Elec.	13 1/4
American Superpower	23 1/2
Baltimore Aircraft	23 1/2
Beech Aircraft	7 3/4
Bliss, E. W.	5
Carrier Corp.	5
Central Hudson Gas & Elec.	12 1/2
Cities Service	1
Creole Petroleum	1
Electric Bond & Share	1
Ford Motor Co.	12
Glen Alder Coal	12
Gulf Oil	28 1/2
Hecia Mines	4 1/2
Humble Oil	40 1/2
International Petroleum Ltd.	9 1/2
National Transit	1
Niagara Hudson Power	1
Pennroad Corp.	4
Republic Aviation	1
St. Regis Paper	11
Standard Oil of Kentucky	11
Technicolor Corp.	1
United Gas Corp.	1
United Light & Power A.	1
Wright Hargraves Mines	1

New York, April 20 (AP)—The stock market was hard put today to retain the moderate gains recorded Saturday, which marked the first upsurge since April 6.

Further progress was impeded by the old complaint of thin demand. There were a few more advances than declines at the start but profit selling tended to impair this balance in the latter proceedings. Trends remained mixed near the fourth hour and most changes were in fractions.

Amplification of the Tokyo reports of air raids on Japanese territory, a leading factor in Saturday's rally, failed to stir much buying interest today. Offsetting this favorable influence, brokers suggested, were tension over signs of a developing big German drive in Russia, the Laval-Vichy riddle and the desire of market followers for safe positions pending the President's disclosure of the government's anti-inflation program.

On steady ground most of the time were Allied Chemical, DuPont, Union Carbide, Texas Co., American Telephone, American Smelting and Kennecott. Backward at intervals were U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar, Union Pacific, American Can and Johnson.

Bonds were uneven and commodities heavy.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city, branch office, 48 Main street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

QUOTATIONS AT 2 O'CLOCK

Allegheny Ludlum Steel	58 1/2
American Airlines	58 1/2
American Can Co.	58 1/2
American Chain Co.	58 1/2
American International	58 1/2
American Locomotive Co.	58 1/2
American Rolling Mills	58 1/2
American Radiator	58 1/2
Am. Smelting & Refining Co.	58 1/2
American Tel. & Tel.	58 1/2
American Tobacco Class B	58 1/2
Anaconda Copper	58 1/2
Atch., Topeka & Santa Fe	58 1/2
Atlantic Refining Co.	58 1/2
Aviation Corp.	58 1/2
Baldwin Locomotive	58 1/2
Baltimore & Ohio Ry.	58 1/2
Benedict Aviation Co.	58 1/2
Bethlehem Steel	58 1/2
Briggs Mfg. Co.	58 1/2
Burroughs Adding Mach. Co.	58 1/2
Canadian Pacific Ry.	58 1/2
Case, J. I.	58 1/2
Celanese Corp.	58 1/2
Cerro de Pasco Copper	58 1/2
Chesapeake & Ohio R.R.	58 1/2
Chrysler Corp.	58 1/2
Columbia Gas & Elec.	58 1/2
Commercial Solvents	58 1/2
Consolidated Edison	58 1/2
Consolidated Oil	58 1/2
Continental Can Co.	58 1/2
Curtiss Wright Common	58 1/2
Cuban American Sugar	58 1/2
Del. & Hudson	58 1/2
Douglas Aircraft	58 1/2
Eastern Airlines	58 1/2
Eastman Kodak	58 1/2
Electric Autolite	58 1/2
Electric Boat	58 1/2
E. I. DuPont	58 1/2
General Electric Co.	58 1/2
General Motors	58 1/2
General Foods Corp.	58 1/2
Goodyear Tire & Rubber	58 1/2
Great Northern, Pfd.	58 1/2
Hercules Powder	58 1/2
Houdaille Hershey B.	58 1/2
Hudson Motors	58 1/2
International Harvester Co.	58 1/2
International Nickel	58 1/2
International Tel. & Tel.	58 1/2
Jones-Manville & Co.	58 1/2
Jones & Laughlin	58 1/2
Kennecott Copper	58 1/2
Lehigh Valley R.R.	58 1/2
Liggett Myers Tobacco B.	58 1/2
Loews, Inc.	58 1/2
Lockhead Aircraft	58 1/2
Mack Trucks, Inc.	58 1/2
McKesson & Robbins	58 1/2
Montgomery Ward & Co.	58 1/2
Motors Products Corp.	58 1/2
Nash Kelvinator	58 1/2
National Can	58 1/2
National Power & Light	58 1/2
National Biscuit	58 1/2
National Dairy Products	58 1/2
New York Central R.R.	58 1/2
Northern American Co.	58 1/2
Northern Pacific Co.	58 1/2
Packard Motors	58 1/2
Pan American Airways	58 1/2
Paramount Pictures	58 1/2
Pennsylvania R.R.	58 1/2
Pepsi Cola	58 1/2
Phelps Dodge	58 1/2
Phillips Petroleum	58 1/2
Public Service of N. J.	58 1/2
Pullman Co.	58 1/2
Radio Corp. of America	58 1/2
Republic Steel	58 1/2
Reynolds Tobacco Class B	58 1/2
Sears Roebuck & Co.	58 1/2
Socony Vacuum	58 1/2
Southern Railroad Co.	58 1/2
Standard Brands Co.	58 1/2
Stan. Gas & El. Co. 6% Pfd.	58 1/2
Standard Oil of N. J.	58 1/2
Standard Oil of Ind.	58 1/2
Studebaker Corp.	58 1/2
Texas Corp.	58 1/2
Texas Pacific Land Trust	58 1/2
Timken Roller Bearing Co.	58 1/2
Union Pacific R.R.	58 1/2
United Gas Improvement	58 1/2
United Aircraft	58 1/2
U. S. Cast Iron Pipe	58 1/2
U. S. Rubber Co.	58 1/2
U. S. Steel Corp.	58 1/2
Western Union Tel. Co.	58 1/2
Westinghouse El. & Mfg. Co.	58 1/2
Woolworth Co. (F. W.)	58 1/2
Yellow Truck & Coach	58 1/2

Treasury Receipts

Washington, April 20 (AP)—The position of the treasury April 17: Receipts $28,380,007.93. Expenditures $116,120,122.06. Net balance $3,671,430,798.20. Working balance included $2,910,463,265.04. Customs receipts for month $17,555,695.84. Receipts fiscal year (July 1) $9,476,760,310.80. Expenditures fiscal year $22,485,088,075.24. Excess of expenditures $13,008,327,764.44. Total debt $70,228,271,803.29. Increase over previous day $10,877,994.04. Gold assets $22,678,241,315.57.

Allies Smash 40 Japanese Planes

(Continued from Page One)

suffering from an acute shortage of food, owing to the sinking of supply ships.

Two week-end raids on Rabaul were taken as further evidence that the United Nations intend to keep up their pressure.

There are signs, however, that the Japanese are increasing their fighter strength and endeavoring to evolve new tactics to minimize increasing Allied attacks and destroy Allied bombers where possible.

Curtin disclosed MacArthur had been instructed specifically to prepare to assume the offensive, and declared the hero of the Philippines had come to Australia "to lead a crusade, the result of which means everything to the future of the world and mankind."

Rabaul Is Raided

As though to emphasize Curtin's statement, it was announced that Allied warplanes had carried out another heavy raid yesterday on the Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, damaging at least one ship in the harbor and returning despite sharp fighter opposition.

(The London radio last night quoted the Australian Broadcasting Commission's correspondent with the Allied forces as saying "it is believed in Australia that the Allied air offensive may soon force the enemy to abandon his air bases at Lae and Salamaua in New Guinea.")

Announcement of the agreement forming MacArthur's appointment as commander in chief in the southwest Pacific, effective as of Saturday midnight, was issued from his headquarters yesterday. It did not specifically mention New Zealand as a party to the agreement but Curtin subsequently included New Zealand with the participants in a letter to MacArthur voicing confidence in his leadership.

MacArthur's statement said that subject to his supreme authority, Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey of the Australian army had been named commander of all Allied land forces, while Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett and Vice Admiral Herbert F. Leary—both Americans—had been designated to command the Allied air and naval forces respectively.

Maj. Gen. Julian F. Barnes, U. S. Army, will command all United States Army forces in Australia. Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, commander of U. S. forces in the Philippines, also will receive his orders from MacArthur.

MacArthur was expected to complete his organization today by naming his headquarters staff, which informed quarters said probably would be headed by Maj. Gen. Richard Sutherland and would include Australian and Dutch liaison officers.

These quarters also declared that for the time being, at least, combat units of the United States Army now in Australia would be attached to two Australian armies under Lieut. Gen. Sir John Lavarack and Lieut. Gen. Sir Iven Mackay.

Brigading of American troops with Australian divisions, it was explained, would give the Americans an opportunity to complete battle training under commanders with recent combat experience in the Middle East.

Amalgamation of Allied aviation resources and facilities in this theatre already is well under way under Brett.

Force Is Released

Chungking reported that Chinese troops swooping down from the northeast had recaptured Yenangyung, Burmese oil center, and in two days of bitter fighting had released a British force of several thousand from Japanese encirclement.

As if trying to regain face lost in the bold daylight assault on the homeland, Japanese gunners on Bataan Peninsula and at Cavite opened intense fire yesterday on the United States' insular forts in Manila Bay—Fort Mills on Corregidor and nearby Hughes and Drum.

Return fire silenced at least three enemy batteries and broke up truck and troop concentrations on Bataan. Five dive-bomber raids were made on Corregidor, apart from high level attacks there and on Fort Hughes. One plane was downed.

General Douglas MacArthur and aides discussed offensive plans today in Australia's Prime Minister John Curtin at Canberra. It was the first of a series of facilitating conferences between him, as confirmed commander for the United Nations in the Southwest Pacific, and Curtin, in his concurrent capacity as defense minister.

Heavy fighting continued on the Burma approach to India, with the British, now helped on the right wing by Chinese reinforcements, reported holding their ground at Taunggying.

No one could say yet whether invasion of India, or Australia, or possibly both at once, was next on Japan's timetable. There was the chance that the Japanese might thrust at the Australian mainland for a landing before the MacArthur counter-offensive could be mounted.

With that in mind, the MacArthur command sent its warplanes yesterday against Rabaul, New Britain, keystone of the flying buttress of Japanese conquest in the islands facing Australia.

At least one ship in Rabaul harbor was damaged and the raiders returned safely despite sharp fighter opposition. Observers have seen Rabaul as the likeliest first target of the prospective counter-offensive to smash the Japanese penetration of the Southwest Pacific.

The formal charter granted by the United Nations to General MacArthur as their supreme commander in that region, effective as of Saturday midnight, removed the last technical impairment of MacArthur's purpose, as Prime Minister Curtin put it, "to lead a crusade, the result of which means everything to the future of the world and mankind."

Local Death Record

The funeral services of Irving Kain were held Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick officiating. Burial was in the Wilkitt cemetery.

The funeral of David Kieffer, who died Wednesday, April 15, was held from his late residence on the Neighborhood Road, Lake Katrine, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The services were largely attended and there were many beautiful floral tributes. The Rev. Stephen W. Ryser, pastor of the Flatbush Reformed Church, officiated. Burial was in the Lake Katrine cemetery.

The funeral of Frederic M. DeLana, who died at the Presbyterian Hospital, New York city, Thursday, April 16, was held from the Universal Chapel, 597 Lexington avenue, Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock under the direction of A. Carr & Son of this city. Burial took place in Montrose Cemetery at about 5 o'clock. The Rev. William T. Reinson of Saugerties conducted the committal service at the cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Georgianna Wiltshire, a former resident of Tillsen, who died at the Benedictine Hospital, Monday evening, April 14, were held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Kukuk Memorial Funeral Home, 167 Tremper avenue. The Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated. Mrs. Wiltshire was buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Brooklyn, Thursday.

Mrs. Willetta Chamberlain, 89, formerly of Kingston, and mother of Mrs. E. VanDyke Basten of this city died at Bergenfield, N. J., Saturday, April 18. Other daughters surviving are Mrs. John K. Bostwick, Bergenfield, Mrs. Charles M. Brink, Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Henry Basher, Tarrytown, N. J., a sister, Mrs. Ida V. Vail of Margaretville. Burial will be in the Wilkitt cemetery Tuesday at 12:45 p. m.

Mrs. Celia V. Berryman, wife of William Berryman, died suddenly at her home, 8 Brewster street, Kingston, early Monday morning, April 20. Surviving relatives beside her husband are one son, Wilfred A. Woodstock, two daughters, Mrs. Earl C. Snyder of Warrington and Miss Grace C. Berryman at home, and two grandchildren, Mrs. Pierce Palmer of Cortland and Mrs. Robert J. Snyder of Washington, also two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Christina of Little Falls and Mrs. William Conklin of Kingston. Funeral services will be held at the home, 8 Brewster street, Thursday, April 23, at 2:30 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Otto Schreiber, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Kingston. Burial will be in Tongore Cemetery.

Sister M. Anastasia, O.S.B., died Sunday morning at the Benedictine Hospital after a protracted illness. She was well known to the people of this city and county, having been superintendent of the Benedictine Hospital from 1915 to 1924. She also taught in the Catholic Schools of St. Joseph, East Rutherford, N. J., St. Henry's, Bayonne, N. J., St. Mary's, Hackensack, N. J., Bender Memorial Academy, Elizabeth, N. J., and St. Raphael's, Manchester, N. H. Born in Germany, she came to this country and entered the convent in 1888. Surviving her is one niece, Mrs. Martin Cooley, M. D., of Washington, D. C., and three cousins, Mrs. Francis Mathes, Mrs. Blanch Mathes and Mrs. Ella Janikula, all of Brooklyn. The funeral will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock with Mass of requiem in Our Lady of Victory Chapel at the Benedictine Hospital. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Eugene A. Rosa, wife of George E. Rosa, 10 Park avenue, who died suddenly at the municipal auditorium Tuesday evening, were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Kukuk Memorial Funeral Home, 167 Tremper avenue. The Rev. William Peckham, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church of which Mr. Rosa had been a faithful member, officiated. The services were largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends including members of the Loyal Workers Sunday school class of the church as well as a delegation of members of the auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans. There was a profusion of floral tributes attesting to the love and esteem in which she was held. Burial was in Wilkitt cemetery. Bearers were Messrs. Daniel Secor, Allie Stall, Charles Slater, Percy and Jesse DeGroff and James Smith. The members of the auxiliary as well as those of the Sunday school class acted as a guard of honor at the funeral home as well as at the grave.

Harry L. Steeger, of Gage street, is convalescing at his home following a fall from his bicycle in which he fractured three ribs.

Miss Florence Bryant of New Salem, who for three weeks has been under the care of an ear specialist, returned to school today.

Kembles Furnish Bail
Urban T. Kembel and his wife, Myrtle Kembel, arrested Friday night and held at the Ulster county jail on charges of criminal abortion, on Saturday afternoon furnished bail and were discharged from custody. In the case of Kembel cash bail was set at $1,500 and for his wife, cash bail of $1,000. A hearing in the case is set for Tuesday night, April 21 at 8 o'clock, before Justice Roger H. Loughran of Hurley.

About the Folks

Harry L. Steeger, of Gage street, is convalescing at his home following a fall from his bicycle in which he fractured three ribs.

Miss Florence Bryant of New Salem, who for three weeks has been under the care of an ear specialist, returned to school today.

Kembles Furnish Bail
Urban T. Kembel and his wife, Myrtle Kembel, arrested Friday night and held at the Ulster county jail on charges of criminal abortion, on Saturday afternoon furnished bail and were discharged from custody. In the case of Kembel cash bail was set at $1,500 and for his wife, cash bail of $1,000. A hearing in the case is set for Tuesday night, April 21 at 8 o'clock, before Justice Roger H. Loughran of Hurley.

General Douglas MacArthur and aides discussed offensive plans today in Australia's Prime Minister John Curtin at Canberra. It was the first of a series of facilitating conferences between him, as confirmed commander for the United Nations in the Southwest Pacific, and Curtin, in his concurrent capacity as defense minister.

Heavy fighting continued on the Burma approach to India, with the British, now helped on the right wing by Chinese reinforcements, reported holding their ground at Taunggying.

Maroon Baseball and Track Athletes Preparing for Openers

Pawling Bowlers Hit 3320 For First Place in 5-Man Central Rec Sweepstakes

Three Local Teams Next in Line; Freds Slam 3193; Phil Corrado Bowls 244 Single

With a tremendous 3320 series last night the Lasher Five of Pawling rolled into first place in the Central Recreations 5-Man Sweepstakes at the Central Rec alleys. The Dutchess county keglers, an 866 average club, rattled the pins for games of 1076, 1139 and 1105. D. Lasher paced the club with a 621 while C. Brown, the anchor bowler, blasted 606. Every member of the visiting aggregation bowled far over his head with sensational scores.

Freds Take Second
A 3193 series by Freds enabled the local bowlers to capture second place in the sweepstakes. The bowlers hit 1114, 1024 and 1055 in a steady flow of power which gave the Kingston keglers a coveted position in the money.

Phil Corrado was high for the winners with a 244 single, the highest single in the tournament to date. Corrado also had a 611 series, high for Freds. Art Parks came through with 583, Jack Dawkins rolled 529, George Dawkins supplied the victors with a 495 string and Pres Knight hit 510. Freds rolled with a 155-pin handicap.

The Electrol Apprentices moved into third place Saturday night with a 3144 series. The defense workers collected scores of 974, 1065 and 1105. Their handicap was 281. Ferguson and Campochiaro posted scores of 525 and 500 for the winners.

The Crystals took over in fourth place Sunday afternoon at the Central Recreation drives with games of 988, 1033 and 1120. Art Parks had 582 and Fritz Bruhn 552.

Gil Sampson's 5-Man Sweepstakes will continue next Saturday afternoon.

THE BOXSCORERS:

STATE CIGAR, POUGHKEEPSIE
F. Veach 195 162 183 547
L. DePaolo 184 169 164 517
G. Veach 179 189 148 516
F. Brown 163 139 139 441
W. Tolson 180 189 175 544
Handicap 74 74 74 222
Total 1016 992 900 2998

LASHER FIVE, PAWLING
D. Lasher 214 209 198 621
Brilliant 190 173 195 558
W. Brown 203 201 185 589
A. Sira 198 223 171 592
Capt. C. Brown 181 199 226 606
Handicap 124 124 124 372
Total 1076 1139 1105 3320

SHERMANS
B. Jones 164 178 166 508
A. Tutbill 191 172 161 524
H. Clark 147 157 141 445
J. Sherman 171 140 116 427
F. H. Acker 163 139 132 434
Handicap 189 189 189 567
Total 1025 995 912 2932

CRYSTALS
A. Parks 212 202 168 582
P. Knight 160 161 198 519
F. Ferguson 136 104 132 372
L. Bruhn 188 156 162 506
G. Sampson 160 193 170 512
Handicap 150 150 150 450
Total 988 1033 1120 3141

PEPIS
Hanley 181 187 200 568
Green 157 158 193 548
M. Tiano 193 193 159 545
Tremper 202 185 287 594
Brooksie 199 209 200 608
Handicap 80 80 80 240
Total 1032 1012 1039 3083

SANGI SPARKPLUGS
D. Ziegler 152 160 209 521
H. Robinson 152 160 209 522
H. Carnright 124 171 146 441
J. Angel 173 203 198 574
J. M. Greco 168 189 162 519
Handicap 131 131 131 393
Total 912 1052 1096 3054

HUDSON VALLEY STARS
Brizee 181 195 157 533
Quick 210 178 243 631
N. Rogers 191 172 145 486
Tiano 193 202 144 539
Ferraro 202 242 160 595
Handicap 78 78 78 234
Total 1031 1049 936 3014

TRAILWAYS
J. Clark 157 202 195 554
L. Legg 166 142 156 464
F. Lawrence 146 139 132 417
H. Otto 148 132 168 448
E. Chiel 191 160 179 530
Handicap 234 234 234 702
Total 1012 1020 1064 3096

RAMBLERS
B. Houghtaling 171 157 175 503
G. Bruck 152 162 196 510
J. Rudolph 131 157 165 393
E. G. Hill 147 142 192 482
Handicap 270 270 270 810
Total 1007 993 1108 3103

H. & R.
C. Rappleyea 132 168 212 512
E. Duffels 138 178 137 453
R. Hays 176 126 160 462
H. East 135 191 179 505
H. Thomas 120 159 177 456
Handicap 211 211 211 633
Total 912 1033 1076 3021

GLASCO ALL STARS
J. Pandina 111 132 130 373
M. Frangelli 121 158 141 420
F. Frangelli 121 158 141 420
F. Ferraro, Jr. 170 177 154 491
P. Tiano 145 154 164 463
Handicap 238 238 238 714
Total 1023 980 977 2980

COOLERS
W. Davis 135 133 159 427
R. Pieper 122 128 168 478
G. Gallagher 124 140 174 438
B. Brookie 129 143 182 454
Ferraro 179 198 179 556
Handicap 62 62 62 186
Total 942 967 920 2829

COOLERS
W. Davis 135 133 159 427
R. Pieper 122 128 168 478
G. Gallagher 124 140 174 438
B. Brookie 129 143 182 454
Ferraro 179 198 179 556
Handicap 62 62 62 186
Total 942 967 920 2829

COOLERS
W. Davis 135 133 159 427
R. Pieper 122 128 168 478
G. Gallagher 124 140 174 438
B. Brookie 129 143 182 454
Ferraro 179 198 179 556
Handicap 62 62 62 186
Total 942 967 920 2829

COOLERS
W. Davis 135 133 159 427
R. Pieper 122 128 168 478
G. Gallagher 124 140 174 438
B. Brookie 129 143 182 454
Ferraro 179 198 179 556
Handicap 62 62 62 186
Total 942 967 920 2829

COOLERS
W. Davis 135 133 159 427
R. Pieper 122 128 168 478
G. Gallagher 124 140 174 438
B. Brookie 129 143 182 454
Ferraro 179 198 179 556
Handicap 62 62 62 186
Total 942 967 920 2829

COOLERS
W. Davis 135 133 159 427
R. Pieper 122 128 168 478
G. Gallagher 124 140 174 438
B. Brookie 129 143 182 454
Ferraro 179 198 179 556
Handicap 62 62 62 186
Total 942 967 920 2829

Newburgh Bowlers Hold Many Leads In State Tourney

Ainslie Five of Johnson City Paces Class A in First Week at Binghamton

Binghamton, N. Y., April 20 (AP)—The Ainslie Five of Johnson City leads the Class A kegling squads at the close of the first week of the New York State Men's Bowling Tournament.

John Storer's 287 gave the Johnson City squad the list they needed last night to roll 2986 and gain a 39 pin lead over the Seneca Falls Sponsors, who hit 2947.

Other leaders: Class A singles, J. Zwydzinski, 882; Class A all-events, E. D. Mattis, Seneca Falls, 1920; Class A doubles, J. Cimmarino, J. Cervoni, Newburgh, 1306; Class B teams, Roy Mason's Five, Newark, 2725; Class B doubles, L. Casey-D. Austin, Rochester, 1152; Class B singles, C. Possinger, Endicott, 588.

The standings: Class A teams: Ainslie Five, Johnson City, 2986; Seneca Falls Sponsors, 2947; Tirk Venders, Newburgh, 2911; Castoffs, Newburgh, 2898.

Class B teams: Roy Mason's Five, Newark, 2725; Sonne Brothers, Utica, 2699; Service Brothers, Utica, 2644; M. and M. Club, Monticello, 2626; Class A doubles: J. Cimmarino, J. Cervoni, Newburgh, 1306; F. Veach-L. DePaolo, Newburgh, 1296; J. Hopsh-W. McQuiston, Newburgh, 1245; H. DeMora-A. Canio, Rochester, 1238; S. Chierli-G. VanHusen, Gloversville, 1218.

All-events: E. D. Mattis, Seneca Falls, 1920; J. Cimmarino, Newburgh, 1881; J. Drew, Schenectady, 1831; E. Garbarino, Ellenville, 1856; L. DePaolo, Newburgh, 1846.

Class A singles: J. Zwydzinski, 882; J. Ludwik, Frankfort, 677; M. Loece, Newburgh, 667; Garbarino, Ellenville, 642; A. Crisci, Newburgh, 627 and T. Jones, Newburgh, 618.

Class B doubles: L. Casey-D. Austin, Rochester, 1152; L. Wilkins-F. Bouse, Utica, 1142; M. Sacks-B. Leve, Rochester, 1079; A. Clatio-T. Valentine, Newburgh, 1064; B. Tennon-C. Chartoff, Newburgh, 1062.

Class B singles: C. Possinger, Endicott, 588; C. Chartoff, Newburgh, 553; and K. Phillips, Endicott, 549.

Jr. Softball League GAMES THIS WEEK
Wednesday
U.B.K. vs. Clowns M.J.M.
Thursday
Raichles vs. Bombers K.H.S.
Centrais vs. Yanks
Matthews vs. Cyclones
All games will start at 6:30 o'clock. Captains are requested to note that all money must be handed in by May 1. Thursday games will be played at the new diamond, high school diamond and the old field.

BOOSTER BOWLERS MEET
There will be an important meeting of the Booster Bowling League Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Central Recreation alleys. All members are requested to attend as matters of great importance will be discussed.

SIXTY COLLAPSIBLE TUBES FOR TOOTH
Back of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

The Scoreboard

NATIONAL LEAGUE Yesterday's Results

New York, 5; Boston, 2.
Brooklyn, 6; Philadelphia, 2.
St. Louis, 3; Pittsburgh, 2.
Cincinnati, 2; Chicago, 1, (14 ins.).

Standing of the Clubs

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Brooklyn	4	2	.667
Boston	4	2	.667
Pittsburgh	4	2	.667
New York	4	2	.667
St. Louis	3	5	.500
Chicago	2	3	.400
Cincinnati	2	3	.400
Philadelphia	1	5	.167

Games Today
Philadelphia at New York.
Boston at Brooklyn.
Chicago at Pittsburgh.
Other clubs not scheduled.

Tuesday, April 21
Boston at Brooklyn.
Philadelphia at New York.
Cincinnati at St. Louis.
Chicago at Pittsburgh.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Yesterday's Results
Boston, 5; New York, 2.
Philadelphia, 5; Washington, 1.

Standing of the Clubs

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Boston	5	1	.833
St. Louis	5	2	.714
New York	4	2	.667
Detroit	4	3	.571
Cleveland	2	3	.400
Philadelphia	2	5	.286
Washington	1	4	.200
Chicago	1	4	.200

Games Today
New York at Philadelphia.
Washington at Boston.
St. Louis at Cleveland.
Detroit at Chicago.

Tuesday, April 21
Washington at Boston.
Detroit at Chicago.
New York at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Cleveland.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Yesterday's Results
Montreal, 8; Newark, 7 (10 ins.).

Standing of the Clubs

Club	Won	Lost	Pct.
Jersey City	4	1	.800
Rochester	4	1	.800
Syracuse	2	1	.667
Montreal	3	2	.600
Newark	2	3	.400
Baltimore	2	3	.400
Buffalo	1	4	.200
Toronto	0	3	.000

Games Today
Toronto at Jersey City.
Buffalo at Baltimore.
Rochester at Syracuse.
Other clubs not scheduled.

BOOSTER BOWLERS MEET
There will be an important meeting of the Booster Bowling League Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Central Recreation alleys. All members are requested to attend as matters of great importance will be discussed.

SIXTY COLLAPSIBLE TUBES FOR TOOTH
Back of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

Reports leaking out of the week-end meeting of the stewards indicated that Lake Onondaga at Syracuse, N. Y., is an available site if the Poughkeepsie is transferred. It is the site is changed, it would be the first shift since 1920 when the title was decided on Cornell's Lake Cayuga.

AS A BUSHNELL, DIRECTOR OF THE
intercollegiate group's central office here, said he expected to have the voting tabulated by mid-week. Lack of coast guard boats to patrol the four-mile Hudson river course, war-time economy, poor tidal conditions in mid-June and inability to obtain observation cars for the spectators may bring about a shift in the site of the world series of rowing.

'Whitey' Kowalyck May Sign With Recreations This Year

Catcher, Who Was Given Contract by Dodgers, Bats at Terms of Major League Club

The Kingston Recreations received good news over the week-end when it was announced that "Whitey" Kowalyck, the peppery little catcher, may be back with the club this summer despite his possibility of becoming a member of the Brooklyn Dodge extensive farm system.

Kowalyck, who batted only .205 last season for the Kingston club, is considered one of the best receivers ever to don a uniform here. At the tail end of the campaign in 1941 "Whitey's" hitting did pick up a little.

In a letter to Jack Robins, committee member of the Recreations, the backstopper relates that the Dodgers offered him a job with one of their farm clubs, Kowalyck, it is believed, will balk at that attempt as he states that the salary offered was by far too meagre.

Kowalyck, who Kingston fans thought was a drawing card besides a good catcher, says that he would like to rejoin the club again. Although his status with the Dodgers hasn't been confirmed as yet, there is a very good possibility of the Recs for the 1942 season.

Besides this announcement the Recreations were notified that Jimmy Ashdown, outfielder, and Bobby Bush, pitcher, would be available for the 1942 squad. Previous plans by the club didn't include these two local stars. Both were with the club in 1941.

Should Ashdown be retained, and judging from his play in 1941, he undoubtedly will be, one or two players from the current outfield roster, will be lopped off the list. Ernie Downer, Sam Mele, Pat Hays and Tommy Maines already are on the list. Dick Whitesell of Poughkeepsie also is being watched.

Last season Ashdown, who patrolled leftfield, came through with the second highest batting average on the club with a .308. Chuck Yanni had .325 to lead the club. Although Downer, a former agent of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, is considered a great player, it isn't likely that the club will release Ashdown who except for one or two lapses during the year.

The Recreations will hold their first workout of the season next Sunday afternoon at Barmans Park. The stadium will not be ready for the locals until the

The Weather

MONDAY, APRIL 20, 1942

Sun rises, 6:08 a. m.; sun sets, 7:51 p. m., E.W.T.
Weather, cloudy

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded during the night by The Freeman thermometer was 41 degrees. The highest point reached up until noon today was 50 degrees.

Weather Forecast

New York city and vicinity—This afternoon moderate winds and cool. Tonight temperature about the same as last night, moderate winds.

Eastern New York—Light rain in north-east portion early tonight. Continued cool tonight.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Scout activities for the week of April 20 to 25:

Troops of the city of Kingston are now being visited by Capt. Miller of the air raid wardens staff, who is asking the scouts to co-operate and also explaining some new jobs which the scouts can do to assist the civilian defense of Kingston. Each troop will be visited during the next few weeks and all are looking forward to the opportunity of being host to the captain and his warden.

Tuesday evening the monthly meeting of the executive board of the council will be held at Judge's Restaurant on Albany avenue. At this time the camp committee will report on plans for the summer season and other council committees will present their plans for the balance of the year.

Wednesday evening Charles Davis, chairman of the organization committee and other members of the council will go to New Baltimore to invest the new troop which has been formed at that community. This is Troop No. 41 and is sponsored by the Cornell Hook and Ladder Co. of New Baltimore. Eleven boys are to be taken in as charter members of the troop.

Thursday evening the Saugerties district committee will hold its quarterly meeting at the Saugerties High School with District Chairman Frank Mason presiding and asking for the reports of district committees.

Friday evening the executive and members of the 1942 camp staff will meet to perfect the plans for the coming summer and outline to each man his duties and also select the junior staff officers.

BUSINESS NOTICES

Smith Ave. Storage Warehouse
Local and Long Distance Moving
84-86 Smith Ave. Phone 4070

SHELDON TOMPKINS MOVING
Local, Long Distance. Storage
Modern Vans. Packed Personally.
Ins. 32 Clinton Ave. Tel. 649.

STYLES EXPRESS, Cottekill, N. Y.
Daily service to New York and New Jersey. Local and long distance moving and trucking. Phone Kingston 336-W-1, High Falls 2331

VAN ETTEN & HOGAN
Wm. S. Hogan, Prop., 150 Wall St.
Local, Long Distance Moving and Storage. Phone 661-489-J.

The Daily Freeman is on sale at the following stands in New York city:

Hotaling News Agency, Times Building, Broadway and 43rd street.

KINGSTON TRANSFER CO., INC.
Storage warehouse. Local and long distance moving. Phone 910.

PETER C. OSTERHOUDT & SON
Contractors, Builders and Joiners.
80 Lucas Avenue. Phone 618.

WHITE STAR TRANSFER CO.
Storage-Warehouse. Local and long distance moving. Phone 164

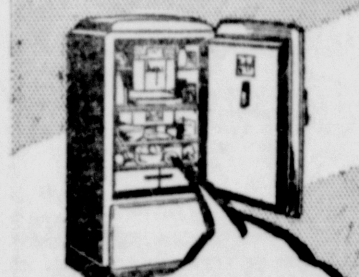

CITY GARAGE
154 Clinton Ave.
Just below St. James St.
Expert fender repairing. Wrecks rebuilt. Tow Car Service.

Floor Sander-$3.50 day. Shapiro's.
63 North Front. Tel. 2395.

Floor Laying and Sanding. New and old floors. John Brown, 152 Smith avenue. Telephone 1193-W.

Contractors, Builder and Joiner Clyde J. DuBois. Tel. 691

HENRY A. OLSON, INC.
Roofing, Waterproofing.
Sheet Metal Work.
Shingles and Roof Coating
170 Cornell St. Phone 840.

I'm a pretty cold sort of guy myself, but I'm getting pretty sore because you've cold shouldered me lately. I've still enough life in me to keep your roast beef a long time. However, I know you need cash. Sell me through a Want Ad.

NATIONAL
WANT AD WEEK

Legion Will Aid In Registration

Group to Assist Board With 4th Draft List

Fourth draft registrants, between the ages of 45 and 65, who will appear before the Draft Board Friday, Saturday and Sunday, will be served by 50 volunteer registrars, all members of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, headed by their commander, Stanley H. Dempsey.

Henry C. Connelly, head of the local Draft Board, issued the invitation to the Legion and lauded the last group of Legion registrars.

Registrants will be encouraged to "take time" in having their blanks filled on all questions.

The following Legionnaires will have the oath of office administered them by Board Chairman Connelly: Mayor William F. Edelmuth, Commander Stanley H. Dempsey, Gus S. Paulson, Nathan Markson, Harry Kirchner, Jack Rabin, Eugene P. MacConnell, Edward J. Hillis, Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., Frank Dobie, Ernest Heppner, the Rev. Clarence Brown, Daniel W. Benton, Thomas Bohan, Michael Bruno, Herman I. DuBois, Myer Kaplan, Ernest W. Crockett, Harry W. Kingsburg, Richard C. Dawe, August Winters, Charles W. Shults, Morton Finch, William Stanton, Nelson W. Snyder, Thomas Reynolds, Joseph E. Sills, James H. Betts, Eugene B. Carey, William E. Mellert, Edmond Coughlin, Eugene Corwell, Sam N. Mann, James G. Norton, Leo Fitzgerald, LeRoy Goodison, Joseph Honig, J. A. Hummel, Abe Singer, Capt. L. S. Miller, Raymond Maginnis, Jacob Mollett, John N. Cordts, Milles Pollock, Isaac Trowbridge, James E. Phelan, Bartholomew Reilly, John Finnelly, Leo Fennelly, Lincoln Crosby, Roy Jacob.

Americans and Australians Stage Wild West Show

An Allied Base in Northern Australia, April 20 (AP)—American and Australian soldiers, many of them former cow-punchers, staged a rodeo today in an improvised corral in the bush country and the Australians, outnumbering their allies, won most of the events.

The contestants practiced on wild burros which were caught in considerable numbers near the camps, broken and trained for riding. Rodeo stock was limited to steers.

American competitors included Private James Morris of 27 Penn avenue, Collingwood, N. J., and Private Sam Nussdorf of Rockwell, Conn.

Nussdorf said: "I never saw a rodeo before except in the movies. Now that I've been in one I've got to write my girl back home. Gary Cooper's got nothing on me."

The Americans discovered that the Australians call cowboys "Jackeroos" and ranches are "stations."

Reports Local Selectees At Fort Dix Center

April 18, 1942
Editor, The Freeman:

Just to inform the many relatives of the selectees who left Kingston Monday, April 13, I am writing the following: The men are all in Co. A, 1229th Reception Center, Fort Dix, N. J. I met them all and they are in good spirits. Some of them have left for camps (destination unknown) today. All the boys are well and wish to thank their friends and the public for the many favors they received. The city of Kingston can be proud of these young men.

Wishing you luck,
Corp. Casimir Lukaszewski,
Co. B, 1229th R. C.,
Fort Dix, N. J.

Railroad Workers Turn in Big Sum For New Bombers

A movement begun by C. D. Tilden, New York Central System electrician at Cleveland, O., to purchase a bomber for the United States armed forces through voluntary contributions of the railroad's employees, was climaxed Sunday at the Grand Central Terminal, New York city, when the sum of $170,062 was turned over to the government for a bomber.

The presentation of the check, representing the contributions of 131,000 of the New York Central employees, was made by C. H. Church, also of Cleveland, whose son was killed in action on December 16 and was the first known New York Central family representative to give his life for his country.

Colonel A. Robert Ginsburgh, aide of Under Secretary of War Patterson, received the bomber fund check and praised the railroad employees for their efforts, not only to buy a bomber but also for the way in which they were doing their part in keeping war materials rolling.

James A. Farley, former postmaster general of the United States and now a director of the New York Central System, presided as master of ceremonies and introduced C. D. Tilden—"the man who was mad about Pearl Harbor and wanted to do something about it." Thus the bomber fund was started in Cleveland and spread throughout the entire railroad system until 131,000 employees had "chipped in" to teach those Japs a lesson.

Add Road Hazards

Flemington, N. J. (AP)—State Trooper John H. Lea learned a lot about street safety patrolling the highways. He started to cross the street to his barracks behind an automobile, not in front of it, but the car hit another and bounced back six feet. Lea was hurled to the sidewalk and painfully bruised.

Lodge Installs New Officers

The second annual installation of officers of the Zephaniah Lodge, B'nai B'rith, No. 131, was held at the Agudas Achim Social Hall, Sunday evening. Shown above are the new officers and the great speaker. Seated left to right, Herman J. Eaton, president; Myron J. Sulzberger, Jr., guest speaker and Aaron Monashelsky, vice-president. Standing in the same order, Harry Gold, treasurer; David Zucker and Dr. Harold Mandell, trustees, and David Kline, secretary.

Local Draft Board Lists Recent Classifications

The following is the list of recent classifications by the local draft board:

1-A
2732—Philip Swartz
S2924—Edward Harold Hung
2894—Raymond Francis Prusak

1-B
1951—Milton Alensky
1985—Max Abramowitz
S2034—William Irving Rose
S2114—Henry Wright, Jr.
2577—Gennaro Jerry Ausanio

1-C
1300—Harry Thomas Lebert

2-A
2948—Emanuel Philip Farber

3-A
188A—Michael Diacova
1430—Richard Whiston
1482—Daniel Matthew McDonald
2350—Carl Frank Kallop
S2702—Edward Leon Neal Jr.
2929—Lee Merton Macomber
3056—Kenneth Joseph Otis
11357—John Richard Shultis

4-F
1747—James Alfred Lynch
2934—Edward Harold McSpirt

What Congress Is Doing Today

(By The Associated Press)

Senate
Considers motion to debate war-time labor legislation.

House
Labor committee meets to re-draft bill by Senator Ball (R., Minn.).

Judiciary committee considers routine business.

Patents committee resumes hearings on wartime patents bill.

House
Considers conference committee report on $19,000,000 supplementary war appropriations and rider to limit excessive profits.

Saturday
House and senate in recess.

Dinner and Meeting Stated For Rondout Presbyterian

Thursday evening the annual dinner and congregational meeting of the Rondout Presbyterian Church will be held in the chapel. Dinner will be served at 6:15 o'clock, followed by the annual meeting.

Three trustees will be elected to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of Henry C. Connelly, Dorr E. Monroe and Charles A. Terwilliger.

Reports of the various church organizations will be made.

Tuesday afternoon the annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church will be held in the chapel. At this meeting officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Zephaniah Lodge Holds Its Induction

The second annual induction services of the Zephaniah Lodge, No. 131, of the B'nai B'rith was presented before a large audience of members and friends on Sunday evening, April 19, in the social hall of the Agudas Achim.

Those inducted into office for the following year were: Herman J. Eaton, president; A. Monashelsky, vice president; Harry Gold, treasurer, and David Kline, secretary.

Myron J. Sulzberger, Jr., past president of New York Lodge, No. 1, was the principal speaker. Mr. Sulzberger spoke on the necessity of encouraging B'nai B'rith activities during this world crisis. In line with patriotic endeavors to perpetuate our democratic policies, he told how B'nai B'rith consistently combats those forces that would destroy our heritage of freedom. Through the efforts of the Anti-Defamation League, an integral part of B'nai B'rith, Mr. Sulzberger told how organized forces to undermine our nations unity and wreck our war efforts have been exposed and brought into their true light. It is interesting to note that those individuals and organizations who have been proven as subversive in character just recently by the F.B.I., are the very same people who have been repeatedly reprimanded in the past for dissemination of anti-semitic and other undemocratic propaganda.

The audience was most enthusiastic in its reception of Mr. Sulzberger's pertinent observations.

Restaurant Fire Is Confined to Cellar

Fire in the cellar of Fred's Restaurant at 51 North Front street at 5:54 o'clock this morning caused an alarm to be turned in from Box 1432. The prompt response of the fire department confined the fire to the cellar. There was more damage from smoke than fire.

The restaurant is on the ground floor of the two-story brick building owned by A. M. DuBois. The ground floor is occupied by Frederick Bedley as a restaurant.

When the restaurant closed last night there was no indication of a fire, it was said by the fire department, but this morning Oda Rich, employed in the restaurant, discovered the fire when he reported for work.

Saturday evening at 8:35 o'clock the fire department responded to a still alarm for a fire in a clothes closet off a third floor bedroom in the three-story room dwelling at 145 Wall street, owned and occupied by Orrie R. Riehl. The fire was confined to the closet. Clothing hanging in the closet was damaged by the fire.

Comforts for Polish civilians in Russia have been collected by Boy Scouts and Cubs of Perth, Scotland, who have already sent nine boxes.

Home Defense

Seventh Ward

Zone Warden Albert Vogel of the seventh ward has called a meeting for this evening of all residents of that ward who are interested in civilian defense at which time all sector, post and air raid wardens are also requested to be present to discuss matters of importance. The meeting will be held in the Cornell firehouse and will start at 8 o'clock.

Tenth Ward

All air raid wardens, first aid wardens, messengers, fire wardens and etc., are requested to be sure and attend the course in fire instructions to be given tonight at 7:30 p. m. at Public School No. 8, Franklin and Furnace streets. Fire Chief Murphy will be in full charge of this special course. All air raid wardens must have at least three hours fire instruction. Chief Murphy has promised to make this meeting especially interesting as well as instructive.

Any wardens who were unable to attend the meeting last Monday night when the federal oath was administered by Mayor Edelmuth, will be permitted to take same at this session. Zone Warden Herman I DuBois requests a full attendance at this meeting to show appreciation of the time and effort so eagerly allotted to this ward by the fire chief.

Valentine Warns Of Reprisal Raids

Police Commissioner Says All in Department Must Be Ready for Calls

New York, April 20 (AP)—Warning of a possible reprisal bombing of New York after the air attacks on Japanese cities, Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine yesterday told his 18,000 men to be ready for emergency duty 24 hours a day and drove home his order with this advice:

"Don't forget the payoff. If we can do it, they can do it, too."

"You've got to live as I live," he said at a department Holy Name Society breakfast, "at the end of a telephone or radio, I can't leave for a cup of coffee without letting my office or my home know where I am. If you get a shave, they must know in which barber shop. If you go out to eat, they must know in which restaurant."

Installation of air raid sirens throughout the city would be completed within two weeks, he disclosed, to warn of possible attacks which might be of the "nuisance type" but would still do damage.

"Remember," he counseled, "nothing would give greater delight to the gangsters, Hitler and Hirohito, than the destruction of New York city."

Maneuvers Show Canal Zone Is Safe From 'Invaders'

Panama Force Conducts Test Tactics Based on Jap Strategy in Pacific

By CHANDLER DIEHL

U. S. Army Headquarters, Panama Canal Zone, April 20 (AP)—The largest field maneuvers conducted in Panama since the start of the war have just ended with the theoretical repulse of an invading "yellow" army employing tactics used by the Japanese in their Pacific conquests.

Thousands of men of the United States Army's Panama mobile force, together with air corps and marine detachments, participated in operations staged in dense jungles and along rugged shores as a further move in strengthening the defenses of this strategically vital zone.

Despite numerical superiority and the advantage of operating from several beachheads within 30 to 80 miles of the canal itself, the invading "yellows" failed to penetrate to the Canal Zone in four days of action featuring night attacks, infiltration tactics, forced marches and assault boat landings in the rear of the "blue" defenders.

One "yellow" infantry battalion traveled 50 miles in two consecutive night-long marches, using machetes frequently to clear a winding trail over mountains and through jungles—all to no avail. The force was spotted by "blue" jungle platoons and cut to pieces in theory, company by company, as it struggled forward.

All types of equipment were thrown into the maneuvers which Lieut. Gen. Frank M. Andrews' command planned for the express purpose of developing "a method of meeting and defeating an invading force employing the tactics used by the Japanese in the Far East."

Women's Field Army For Control of Cancer

Dr. Frank H. Lahey, president of the American Medical Association, identifies procrastination and ignorance as the two most important factors in the early treatment of cancer today. Receipt of a copy of Dr. Lahey's letter was reported today by Miss Eleanor Easton, as the annual enlistment campaign of the Women's Field Army of the American Society for the Control of Cancer gets under way in Ulster county. The letter read:

"One can not deal with the problem of cancer daily, as most surgeons do, without being impressed by the fact that two things play a very large part in patients with cancer coming to treatment early. One, procrastination and two, ignorance. Both of these, even if they can not be remedied can certainly be improved by the ceaseless agitation for their improvement which the American Society for the Control of Cancer and its Women's Field Army promote."

"When one realizes that half the cancers of the colon and rectum that have been submitted to radical operations are alive and well over five years without recurrence, when one realizes the sequel, if not better, figures with cancer of the breast and the even more striking figures in lip and larynx and many of the other places where malignancy occurs, it is not shameful, but certainly depressing, that the people who have these lesions do not present themselves earlier for study and care."

"Any agency whose singleness of purpose is to disseminate knowledge, promote intelligent interest and to overcome procrastination deserves everyone's support, particularly in light of the number of deaths caused by this lesion and so often avoidable."

Father Coughlin Takes All Blame For Social Justice

Royal Oak, Mich., April 20 (AP) The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Royal Oak priest, in a public statement today assumed personal responsibility for control of the magazine "Social Justice," its policies and its contents "if Social Justice, as Attorney General Biddle is reported to have declared in his press conference, is 'clearly seditious.'"

Biddle announced Friday at Washington that a special District of Columbia Grand Jury would investigate all phases of the publication of "Social Justice," a magazine which Father Coughlin founded in 1934, but with which the priest has disavowed any connection since 1940.

The attorney general's action followed an order from the postmaster-general barring the periodical from the mails for alleged seditious statements.

Father Coughlin has stated that "Social Justice" is owned by his parents, Thomas J. and Amelia Coughlin of Royal Oak. E. Perrin Schwartz is its editor.

The priest's statement assuming responsibility for the magazine's pronouncements was issued in a press conference this morning at the rectory of the Shrine of the Little Flower here.

Stops Stomping Auto

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—It was a wild auto ride that 26-year-old Kay Dawson had through the marine base here, and it was marine marksmanship that may have saved her life. Careening among the marines in a condition that later resulted in a drunk-driving conviction, Miss Dawson was brought to a halt-uninjured when Luther Finley, ex-cowboy, expertly put bullets through two of her tires.

A school slate owned by Ruby Buchanan of Stroud, Okla., was used by her great grandfather in 1805. It weighs 1½ pounds.

Returns to Camp

FREDERICK J. MARKLE

Frederick J. Markle, private first class, who has been spending a ten-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Markle of West Hurley has returned to Camp Gordon, Ga.

Accepted in Army

BERNARD F. BRANNEN, JR.

Bernard F. Brannen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brannen of 114 Andrew street was among the group from Kingston who left, April 13, and was accepted for service in the United States Army. Prior to his induction he was employed by the New York Central Railroad, as brakeman on the River Division Line.

K. P. Duty Again

Fort George G. Meade, Md. (AP)—Private Jack O'Beirne knows history repeats itself. He enlisted in the first World War and drew kitchen police on his first day in the army. But before the day was over, he was shifted to the supply room. He enlisted in the current World War. His first-day chores were kitchen police, then supply room.

Brazil furnishes about 65 per cent of all the coffee in the world.

WATCH for Tuesday's Freeman....

ANNOUNCING FOUR DAY

AFTER EASTER SALE

Tremendous Savings on

DRESSES—SUITS

GOLD'S RELIABLE SHOP

322 Wall Street—Kingston, New York

ALL MEAT PRICES SHARPLY

REDUCED

SPRING LAMB

LAMB CHOPS

RIB CUTS, 25¢

lb. 25¢

CORNEED BEEF

BONELESS BRISKET

PLATE and NAWEL lb. 15¢

PORK CHOPS

LEAN MEATY lb. 29¢

ORANGES

EXTRA LARGE FLORIDA Doz. 29¢

BEETS

FRESH GREEN TOP Bch. 5¢

NIBLETS CORN

RINSO or OXYDOL...lge. pkg. 21¢

IVORY SOAP

3 cakes 16¢

GRAND UNION Self-Service MARKET

GOOD DISTRIBUTION BEING MADE

SELF-SERVICE

GRAND UNION MARKET

MARKET

MARKET

MARKET

MARKET

MARKET

MARKET

MARKET

MARKET

MARKET

Townsendites Meet

On Tuesday evening, April 21, No. 2 Townsend Club, The Business Men's Club, will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting at Moose Hall, 574 Broadway. The attendance of all members is requested as important matters will be taken up at this meeting. An evening of games will follow the meeting and music for dancing by the famous Townsend Ramblers. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

Did You See In The Papers that someone, last week, was arrested for violation of the Workmen's Compensation Law?

DON'T TAKE CHANCES! See Us at Once and Be Sure

H. J. TERWILLIGER